MARINES COUNTER MOVE

Commander of U. S. Forces Calls on Japs to Explain Why Territory Was Entered.

BULLETIN

SHANGHAI —(AP)— A violent tirade against United States marines was spread today across the front page of the newspaper Tairiku Shimpo, generally regarded as a mouthpiece of the Japanese army in China, as the aftermath of an International Settlement incident.

(By Associated Press)

SHANGHAI — Major Gen. Saburo Miura, commander of Japanese gendarmes, demanded an apology today from the commander of United States Marines in the international settlement for alleged maltreatment of 15 plainclothes gendarmes while in marine custody.

He declared that "speedy settlement of the incident is necessary or the matter is likely to take a grave turn."

Miura previously had apologized for presence of the gendarmes in the American defense area of the international settlement in violation of an agreement not to enter without American military authorities' consent.

Col. DeWitt Peck, Marine commander, replied yesterday "it's a lie" in denying the Japanese had been maltreated. In a letter to Colonel Peck, Miura said that despite his previous agreement to consider the incident closed, "discovery of new facts revealing that the Americans insulted the entire Japanese army" made necessary further consideration of the case.

A Japanese spokesman said the gendarmes entered the area to safeguard Lieut.-Gen. Toshizo Nishio, commander-in-chief of Japanese forces in China.

Colonel Peck, who indicated informally that no apology would be forthcoming, said today he had asked the Japanese to explain additional violations of the agreement.

He declared Japanese attempted to drive two tanks into the zone

ASKS MORE CASH

Chancellor Submits War Bill To British House.

LONDON—(AP)—Britain now is spending $38,000,000 a day of which $26,000,000 is going to the army, navy and air force, Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir Kingsley Wood told the house of commons today.

Sir Kingsley made this announcement in asking a vote of credit for about $4,000,000,000.

The house voted this credit and then went into a secret session for debate on economic warfare. The government already had been given a blank check as far as appropriations go and parliament votes it money from time to time to pay the bills.

OK'S GAS RATE

Springfield to Pay 62 Cents for Next Four Years.

SPRINGFIELD — (AP) — City council has approved a four-year gas rate ordinance estimated to yield the Ohio Fuel Gas company an "average overall return" of 62.1 cents a thousand cubic feet. Consumers here now pay 60 cents a thousand.

A 48-cent rate ordinance has been in litigation before the public utilities commission since 1932.

Willkie's Choice

Popular Representative Joseph W. Martin, jr., today was named chairman of the Republican national committee, and director of the campaign of Wendell L. Willkie for the presidency. Martin, who comes from Massachusetts is minority leader in the house. Named by a sub-committee of the national committee, Martin was the personal choice of Willkie for the post.

RICHLAND DEMS AT DAVEY MEET

O'Donnell, Cave Represent County at Kent Meeting On Fall Campaign.

Two Richland county Democratic leaders went to Kent yesterday to confer with Martin L. Davey, the party nominee for governor, and other state Democratic leaders on campaign plans, apparently forgetting any differences they may have had with the former governor in the primary.

Representing the county organization were Atty. John C. O'Donnell, county executive committee chairman, and Frank Cave, former speaker of the Ohio house of representatives.

O'Donnell said today he attended the session on Davey's invitation and added that most of the county chairmen in the state were there.

The Richland county chairman said "general campaign plans were discusssed" but it is still "too early to make any definite arrangements for meetings or predictions."

Davey outlined his campaign program to the chairmen last night, asserting that he won the nomination over his six opponents in May because he was "the only one who had a planned campaign."

He scheduled a number of individual conferences with county chairmen today in order to discuss local conditions.

'Cold Wave' From Siberia Over, Hot Days To Stay Now

Siberia is to blame for Mansfield's "wintry July," the weather man said today in a statement in which he also predicted the end of the cool and chilly weather of the past several weeks.

The first seven days of July the temperatures in this area were six degrees below the July mean, according to Assistant United States Meteorologist Leon Walters of Columbus, and this was caused by high pressure areas, originating in Siberia.

But the subnormal weather is at an end, Walters said, and we are in for some real summer weather. Thunder showers are predicted for tonight, with little change in temperature.

Temperatures in the past 24 hours have ranged from 84 at noon today to a low of 63 during the night. Yesterday's high was 82, and the average was 72.5, normal for this area this time of year.

MARTIN NAMED TO CHAIRMAN WILLKIE DRIVE

G.O.P. Candidate Picks House Minority Leader to Head Election Campaign.

STASSEN GIVEN POST

Hamilton to Work Under New Campaign Chief; Shifts OK'd by Party Group.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — Representative Joseph W. Martin, jr., of Massachusetts, house minority leader, today was named chairman of the Republican national committee and director of the Willkie presidential campaign.

John D. M. Hamilton, present committee chairman, was selected as executive director. He will work under Martin.

Wendell L. Willkie, the Republican presidential nominee, announced the appointments to a press conference after he had met with a subcommittee which the national committee authorized to make the selections.

Willkie also announced that Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota, who was keynoter and Willkie's floor manager at the Republican convention, would head a large campaign advisory committee.

Other appointments included formal selection of Russell Davenport of New York, former managing editor of Fortune magazine, to serve as Willkie's personal representative who will work with Martin, and the assignment of Oren Root, jr., young New York lawyer, to organization work among independent Willkie clubs.

TWO NEW MARKS

Strato Liners Beat East-West, West-East Records.

NEW YORK — (INS) — Two huge TWA stratoliners settled to earth today—one near the blue Pacific, the other close to the Atlantic—to write a new chapter in record-shattering transcontinental flights by transport planes.

An eastbound craft, after an overnight flight from Burbank, Cal., reached LaGuardia airport only 11 hours and 45 minutes after lifting from the Burbank airport. The old mark was 15 hours and 42 minutes.

In faraway, Burbank, a sister ship which had left LaGuardia airport last night slipped down from the clouds also in record time. The westbound stratoliner rocketed from east to west coast in 14 hours and 15 minutes, wiping out the previous record of 16 hours and 58 minutes.

Mansfield Stenog Makes 'Solo'

A Mansfield stenographer who has been interested in aviation less than six months last night became the first woman to make a solo flight from the Mansfield airport. She is Miss Betty Thompson, 511 Marion avenue, winner of top honors in the girls' group in the recent Civil Aeronautics course given in Mansfield. Miss Thompson made a 15-minute flight last night at the airport after receiving 12 and a quarter hours of instruction from James R. Harrington, airport manager and government instructor. Pupils must have a minimum of eight hours instruction before they can fly alone. She is shown in the above photo with Harrington.

6 More Homes Looted In Burglary Wave

Complaints On House Breakings Reach 14 As Police Renew Hunt For Thieves; Jewelry, Radio, Guns, Purse Stolen.

Six more burglaries were added today to a series of house breaking reports that have plagued Mansfield police for the past 10 days.

Eight homes were reported broken into last week and reports appearing on police records today indicated that the six others were carried out in much the same manner as those last week.

A considerable amount of cash and a number of household items have been stolen.

Mrs. Delpha Harrison, proprietor of the Mirror restaurant, 138 North Main street, notified police at 5:28 a. m. today that some one had rifled the cash register and taken $21 in cash at her establishment. A cigaret machine was untouched. Police found that all

Defense Classes Operate 18 Hours a Day; 200 Enrolled

More than 200 Mansfielders went back to school yesterday at Senior high school on an 18-hour-a-day schedule to learn how to make airplanes and other defense weapons for Uncle Sam.

V. H. Oberlander, in charge of the vocational and machine shop classes, said the young men, most of whom are in the 18 to 24 age group, will attend six-hour classes, the first ones beginning at 6 a. m. and the last ones ending at midnight. The instruction is being provided free as a part of the national defense program.

Oberlander is still receiving applications for enrollment and he expects the total enrollment in the courses to go well over the 200-mark by the end of the week. Enrollment for the day classes is taken from the lists of the state unemployment service.

Seven instructors, including four who are regular teachers in the Senior high vocation department, have been employed for the summer by the federal government, financing entire cost of the school.

Employed as additional instructors were James Herlihy, former city waterworks superintendent; W. B. Blank, employed during the day in the welding department at the Ohio Brass company, and George Lacy, group leader in the welding department at Westinghouse. Blank and Lacey teach night classes.

High school instructors on the special staff are Paul Hauserman, A. T. Owens, Earl A. Wiener, and Ralph W. Worley.

The courses include auto mechanics, pattern making, acetylene welding, machine shop and electric shop work. The day and night schedule will be continued until Sept. 1 and then there will be only night classes.

ALEXANDRIA — French naval authorities here agreed today to turn over the entire French fleet at Alexandria to the British.

The French are arranging transportation to France of the crews of all the warships.

The French decision removed the possibility of another British-French naval battle here such as occurred at Oran, Algeria, July 3, and left the British fleet free to move more of its power against the Italians in the Mediterranean.

French warships are expected to play a powerful role in the outcome of the Mediterranean situation by bolstering the British fleet.

4 State Liquor Employes In City Due To Lose Jobs

Four state liquor store employes in Richland county will lose their jobs within the next few days because they are not in the state civil service eligibility list, Ralph Hardy, county G. O. P. executive chairman, said today.

The employes, given provisional appointments several months ago, will be replaced from a civil service list compiled following recent examinations, Hardy said.

A representative of the state liquor department was here today interviewing the eligible applicants and he indicated the appointments will be made in Columbus within the next two weeks.

Named as the provisional appointees who will lose their jobs were Aaron Davis, Newell Smith, and Charles Yarman, employed at the North Main street store in Mansfield, and Merritt Winbigler, a Shelby store worker. Employes in the South Park street store in Mansfield will not be affected, it was said.

The four provisional appointees were named under the Republican administration, but they did not qualify under the civil service requirements, party leaders said.

The state liquor interviewer will make recommendations for appointments after conferring with the applicants and county Republican leaders.

Petain Due To Become Head of New Type of Government, Aided By Three-Man Cabinet; Laval Demands Probe of War Leaders' Conduct.

(By International News Service)

France, defeated by Germany and now the ally of her conqueror, became a dictatorship today.

The French chamber of deputies, meeting at Vichy, gave to 84-year-old Henri Petain, France's greatest soldier, full authority to write a new constitution which will remove his country from the roll of the world's democracies.

At the same time, France mobilized her available military power, and seemed to be prepared to join Germany in her attempts to conquer England.

At the Vichy meeting, the French chamber unanimously adopted a resolution calling for investigation of responsibility for France's conduct of the war and French lack of war materials "with intent to secure appropriate expiation."

Laval, in his address said:

"The misfortune brought upon us by the wantonness of those who dragged us into the war imposes a sacred duty to safeguard the leadership of France.

France's forthcoming totalitarian government, it appeared, will consist of a three-man cabinet with Petain as its chairman.

While France shifted into the Nazi-Fascist camp, intense aerial warfare continued between Germany and Britain.

Two more German planes were reported shot down off the southeast coast of England today following a night in which German raiders again bombed England, damaging buildings and causing some casualties.

Meanwhile, British aviation circles said the Royal Air Force over the week-end had carried out extensive raids over Germany and German-occupied areas, dropping bombs which left behind a trail of fires.

Chamber of Deputies Puts OK On Totalitarian State

BULLETIN

VICHY, France—(AP)—The French senate adopted today the government's resolution for revision of the French constitution, by a vote of 225 to 1. It previously had been adopted by the chamber of deputies.

(By International News Service)

VICHY—The French chamber of deputies today approved a change in France's constitution which will give the nation a totalitarian form of government under the virtual dictatorship of Marshal Henri Philippe Petain.

The proposal for a new constitution was approved by a vote of 395 to 3.

Prior to this action, mobilization of two French military classes—those of 1914 and 1915—was revealed as the Petain government moved into the European totalitarian line-up.

Mobilization of still more military classes will follow, it was stated.

Vice Premier Pierre Laval, representing the government before the chamber, asked the deputies to confirm their confidence in Premier Petain. Laval told the deputies:

"The misfortune brought upon us by the wantonness of those who dragged us into war imposes a sacred duty to safeguard the leadership of France.

"Therefore I urge parliament to grant the necessary means and unanimously confirm confidence in Marshal Petain."

This was followed by unanimous approval of the resolution requesting the government to undertake immediate investigation of those responsible for cause and conduct of the war from political, civil and military angles, and to investigate also responsibility for France's insufficient supply of war materials.

The resolution as presented to the chamber by Laval con-

Senate OK on Stimson, Knox Appointments Due Today

BARKLEY SEES QUICK VICTORY ON TWO POSTS

Barkley Says Confirmation For War, Navy Positions To Be 'Overwhelming.'

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON — Administration leaders predicted that the predominantly Democratic senate today would confirm the nomination of Republican Henry L. Stimson and Col. Frank Knox to be members of President Roosevelt's "national solidarity" cabinet.

Overwhelming approval of Stimson and Knox as secretaries of war and navy, respectively, a few hours after the senate convenes this afternoon was seen by Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley despite the attacks of isolationists who have accused the nominees of being "interventionists."

Such action would mean that the appointees probably would take over the two key defense posts this week—at a time when the nation is embarked on the greatest rearmament drive in its peace time history.

Sen. Bennett C. Clark, D.,Mo., is scheduled to wind up the isolationists' anti-Stimson attack today. The brunt of which was carried yesterday by Sens. Arthur H. Vandenberg, R., Mich., and Rush D. Holt, D., W. Va.

After the controversial appointments are disposed of, the senate may act on the house-approved $4,000,000,000 naval expansion bill before recessing Thursday until after the democratic national convention. The senate naval affairs committee urged enactment of the navy bill in a formal report yesterday.

Before Stimson and Knox take office, President Roosevelt may ask congress for approximately $5,000,000,000 more for the war and navy departments. In addition to the $5,000,000,000 already voted for the army and navy, Mr. Roosevelt is expected to ask congress today or tomorrow to provide a similar amount to be used to obtain thousands of planes, tanks and motorized equipment. The new request is expected to include about $4,000,000,000 for the army and $1,000,000,000 for the navy.

Cite War Dangers.

In carrying the burden for foes of the appointments, Vandenberg and Holt argued that Stimson and Knox may precipitate this country's entrance into the European war. Vandenberg charged that if Stimson's advocacy of "intervention" wins, the United States would be flung into war despite all efforts to avoid such an eventuality.

Holt, who spoke for two hours, charged that Stimson has been an "anglomaniac" for more than 25 years,an upholder of international banking interests and an exponent of ruthless imperialism in Latin America.

He said Stimson's elevation to cabinet rank would irritate South American nations at a time when the United States is making earnest bids for their friendship.

Holt asserted that when Stimson was secretary of state marines were maintained in Nicarauga at a cost of $6,000,000 to protect American investments valued at about $15,000,000.

He also made a caustic reference to Stimson's age, pointing out that Mr. Roosevelt, in his ill-fated supreme court reorganization plan, wanted justices retired at 70, three years under Stimson's age.

30 Scouts Attend Opening Period of Summer Camp

Thirty Boy Scouts from the Johnny Appleseed area yesterday took part in the opening day's program of the annual scout summer camp at Camp Avery Hand.

Arriving at camp Sunday afternoon, the scouts spent the rest of the day getting sleeping quarters into shape and getting acquainted. Camp activities are supervised by 20 leaders, including Floyd Dent, area executive.

The first camp period closes next Sunday. Fifty-four boys are registered for the second period which opens Sunday and the third period scheduled to open July 21. There are still some vacancies for the fourth period which opens July 28, according to scout officials.

Forty years is a long, long time, but it's fun to get back to the old stand. That's the way Dale Kuhn, Shelby, feels about returning to the Central Drug store, Fourth and Main, where he is "filling in" for a couple weeks, while Proprietor John Dunajtsik takes a vacation. For Kuhn, now a retired Shelby pharmacist, worked at the old Central store 41 years ago, and coming back had recalled scores of reminiscences of those good old days. One of his first jobs on Saturday mornings, he recalls, was to place handbills in all the buggies hitched around the Square, Fourth street and Diamond streets. His employer was Charles Ashbrook, who was one of the first to see the value of calendars in advertising. Kuhn passed those around, too.

'Scandal Sheet' Publisher Ends Five Years In Pen.

COLUMBUS —(U.P.)— Grover W. Fleming, 58, one-time publisher of a weekly "scandal sheet," left Ohio penitentiary a free man today after serving a maximum five-year sentence on a charge of publishing and distributing obscene literature.

He was sent to the prison July 10, 1935, from Athens county and had been refused a parole three times. Once transferred to the state prison farm at London, Fleming was sent back to penitentiary by Prison Farm Superintendent William F. Amrine who said he was a "troublemaker." Warden Frank Henderson at the penitentiary described Fleming as a "model prisoner."

He published the American and and Ohio Examiner, a weekly.

DEBATE BEGINS ON HATCH BILL

House Considers Measure on Political Activity, Long Dormant.

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON—The house begins debate today on the Hatch "clean state politics" bill which has been lying dormant since senate approval in March.

House opponents of the bill, who had hoped that adjournment of congress would prevent it from being brought up for consideration, now conceded that it would pass.

Sponsor of the bill in the house, Rep. John J. Dempsey, D., N. M., colleague of the bill's author, Sen. Carl A. Hatch, D., N. M., predicted passage by a three-fourth majority. Virtually all Republicans planned to support it.

The bill was the only important legislation on the house calendar this week. Leaders plan to adjourn Thursday until July 22 to allow a 10-day recess during the Democratic national convention.

The senate passed the bill March 18 and sent it to the house where it was referred to the judiciary committee. It finally was reported to the house on May 29, but only after the committee first rejected it in a secret ballot.

The chief feature of the measure is its provision extending to state employes paid with federal funds the same ban that exists on political activity by federal employes.

TWO FINED ON TRAFFIC COUNTS

Shelby, Lexington Drivers Plead Guilty to Charges.

Fines totaling $30 were assessed two motorists arraigned yesterday in Richland county courts on traffic violation charges.

Burt Willis Connelly, 56, Shelby, was fined $25 and costs when arraigned yesterday morning before Mayor W. R. Morris of Shelby on charges of reckless operation, and Howard Smith, R. D. 2, Lexington, charged with driving with improper lights, was fined $5 and costs when arraigned last night before Justice of Peace Wiles of Lexington. Both motorists pleaded guilty to charges.

They were arrested by highway patrolmen over the week-end.

'GAS HAWKS' FINED $50 ON CHARGE OF MOLESTING GIRLS

Two "gas hawks" who attempted to molest four Mansfield school girls last night on Park avenue west today faced the prospect of spending 40 days in county jail unless their fines are paid.

Henry T. Poff, R. D. Mt. Gilead, married and the father of three children, and his cousin, Thomas G. Matney, of Peterson, W. Va., appeared in municipal court this morning and pleaded guilty to a charge of molesting a female. They were fined $50 each and remanded to county jail until it is paid or worked out.

The affidavits against the two men were signed by County Commissioner C. L. Mitchell, father of one of the girls.

The four girls, all 16 years old and in the same class at school, told police they were walking home from a picture show last night about 11 p. m., on Park avenue west, and that the men first called to them at the intersection of Park avenue and Bowman.

The girls said that the two men drove along slowly, calling to them from the car and insisting on "a little ride."

Frightened, one of them ran to the porch of a house on the north side of the street and rang the bell repeatedly but was unable to arouse anyone, police were told.

The two men, the girls said, passed them but later came back. The girls said that, discovering they were unable to arouse anyone, one of the men jumped from the automobile and said:

"The trick didn't work that time, did it girls?"

The girls told police that they then started to run, hurrying to a gasoline station across the street. The men drove away.

They reported the incident to highway patrolmen and later, city police provided with the license number of the automobile, stopped the car on a down town street and took the men to police headquarters.

GEN. MARSHALL GOES BEFORE SENATE GROUP

High Command Expected to Urge Changes In Measure Now Up For Hearing.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The senate military committee decided today to defer hearings on the Burke-Wadsworth training bill until final senate action on the nomination of Henry L. Stimson and Frank Knox to head the war and navy departments.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON—Although army approval of compulsory military training was anticipated today, reliable sources said that the high command was likely to disagree on details of the Burke-Wadsworth bill on which congressional committees are holding hearings.

Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff, headed the list of officers asked to give their views to the senate military committee. A similar house committee convened to hear leaders of various organizations which advocate civilian training.

One point on which army officials were said to disagree with the Burke-Wadsworth bill was the $5-a-month pay rate it fixes for men selected for training. The high command was reported favoring instead the present $21 basic pay of army privates.

Representatives of 22 colleges and universities voted unanimous at New York yesterday to support this bill, and also asked extension of reserve training units to colleges which do not have them.

There were indications, meanwhile, that President Roosevelt was about ready to send congress his new defense recommendations, said to involve $5,000,000. A delay in final navy estimates may postpone the special message until tomorrow.

The senate naval committee urged enactment of the $4,000,000,000 "two-ocean" navy bill in a formal report which said that the nation's seapower "must be ready and stronger than potential aggressors."

"To be second best is not only an invitation to war, but to utter disaster," it added.

Senate leaders said they hoped to get the bill through before Thursday's recess.

FARM WOMAN HURT IN FALL

Mrs. Earl Derr of Near Loudonville Falls of Wagon.

LOUDONVILLE — Mrs. Earl Derr, 23, suffered a fracture of the left leg below the knee yesterday afternoon, when she fell from a hay wagon near the Derr farm, five miles northeast of here.

Mrs. Derr was driving the wagon, drawn by a team of horses, when the accident occurred. She fell to the ground as the wagon passed over a rut. The wheels passed over her leg, fracturing both bones.

Riding on the wagon at the time were her husband and her father, Byron Metcalf.

Mrs. Derr was taken to a doctor's office where the fracture was reduced.

The Voice of BROADWAY

—By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

Miss Midnight's Diary.

Sally Rand, I am happy to report, is back on the Broadway scene, dressed—even overdressed—to the hilt, and without fans, unless you count the kind that hoots admiringly when she comes out with her bubble. Having Sally around is very comforting in these troubled times; she suggests midways and barkers and a five-and-dime Lady Godiva, and she is a reminder that millions of people made one World's fair a success simply at the wave of her fan.

Sally made a demure entrance into LaConga Saturday night, accompanied by a large party of friends, and it turned out to be a great evening for connoisseurs of ladies who take off their clothes, for two tables away, sipping champagne with a duchess manner, was Gypsy Rose Lee.

Gloria Swanson (we are now, of course, into the classification of girls who keep their clothes on) danced the whole evening through with Gus Schirmer, the music publisher, and Brenda Frazier, with Shipwreck (Who Else?) Kelly, made a great gesture toward Pan-American good will.

This gesture consisted of falling into the conga line behind Enrique Batista, nephew of the Cuban dictator. Enrique was so thrilled by this that he rushed out and wrote a letter to his mother, telling her all about his Big Moment.

The prettiest couple in the room was Carol Bruce, the "Louisiana Purchase" dream girl, and Tony Martin, of the cinema, night clubs, and personal appearance.

P. S. They were in Sunday night too. Item?

* * *

Rudy Vallee settled (at least for the evening) the question as to who is his real heart-throb by showing up at the Hurricane on Monday night with Patricia Dane, the girl who followed him here from Hollywood. They arrived just late enough to miss Judy Stewart, his other girl, who had been in with an old friend from the Coast.

And there was Sally Rand, again, in a sky blue dress.

At 2 a. m. George Raft got up from his table and went into the back office of the night club, where he made his nightly call to Norma Shearer. He came back moaning that his horse had not been doing too well in California, but brightened when someone reminded him that the Dodgers were doing fine here.

George is a great Dodger fan—so great that he has been presented with a Dodger uniform, a duplicate of Leo Durocher's, and I can hardly wait for him to wear it into the Stork club some evening.

* * *

Conrad Nagel gave me something of a shock that same evening, because I dropped in at the Algonquin and didn't find him at his usual table. He was around, however—ensconced in the lobby under Frank Case's paternal surveillance. Frances Lederer was there, not reconciling with Margo, as is always being reported, but dining with a gentleman I could not identify. Ursula Parrott laughed for one minute and twenty seconds at something Sigmund Spaeth told her, and Hendrick Van Loon sat coloring European maps in the evening newspaper. He seemed so engrossed that Frank Case tiptoed over and deposited a "Do Not Disturb" sign on the table.

* * *

The new show called "Hands Across the Table," at the St. Regis Viennese Roof, was enough to give anyone who had had two cocktails the feeling that he certainly shouldn't have another—for it began by having two baby grand pianos make their appearance right up through the dance floor. The keyboards were being beaten by the team of Morley and Gearhart, and I must say they blend in a very fine fashion.

It was a packed house, and for a summer opening, very fashionable and gay. Postmaster General James Farley and Basil O'Connor, President Roosevelt's ex-law partner, contributed to the size of the audience by having a party of 50 at a U-shaped table.

Fay Bainter was there looking gay, and Luise Rainer looking rather sad. Mrs. Vincent Astor gave a party for her god-daughter, Phyllis Russel; Boby Glaezner and Eileen Balfe celebrated their engagement announcement; and not far away were the Franklin D. Roosevelts, jr.

Dr. Eugene Marcovici, who I am sure deserves the title of Waltz King of cafe society, was on hand as he always is at St. Regis openings, dancing with a youthful beauty. Current beauty is Beverly Whitney, who might be referred to—and certainly will be if she ever gets into the movies—as a Toronto bombshell.

* * *

Monday night in the Club 18 found swimmers, actresses, and singers eager to be heckled by the floor show zanies. Fay Bainter, who I am told never misses a night on Swing Street, was right there having a high time over the nonsense; Tony Martin with Carol Bruce (isn't that three nights in a row?); Buster Crabbe, and Mitzi Green.

Tony obligingly got up to sing the customers a ballad, and on the second chorus was assisted by Buster Crabbe and those irreverent choir boys, Jack White, Frankie Hyers, and Pat Harrington. When the patrons cried, "More! More!" the plump waiter stooge, Willie Grogan, walked away in disgust.

"You folks," he shouted, "are gluttons for punishment."

Hollywood Speaks—

—By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Deanna Durbin, who always wanted to do a costume movie, is getting her fill of costumes in "Spring Parade." . . . She plays an Austrian peasant girl of the Franz Josef era, and has to dance a couple of tough ones—aside from the inevitable waltz that must be in every Viennese movie. . . .

The call sheet on "The New Yorkers," which usually tells only what actors and props will be needed for the day, was more specific today. . . . "The boy is daydreaming and the girl is worried," it said. . . .

"That's so the director, Preston Sturges, won't have to speak to us in the morning," explained Dick Powell, the boy of the call sheet.

The worrying and day-dreaming (the latter by Ellen Drew) was being staged amid the 8.59 bustle in a large business office, where in the script Powell and Drew are employed. The entire office force marched in, on the dot of 9, to take seats at the 60 desks and typewriters, row on row, awaiting them. Bringing up the rear, and late and worried, . . . Miss Drew, who gave a very convincing performance, was used to have to be on time for the soda fountain, too. . . . And if Madeleine Carroll doesn't get back in time from the European war zone, it's this same Ellen Drew who'll take her role in "Virginia."

* * *

What this town needs is more autograph-askers. . . . That's what Patty (of the Andrews Sisters) says. . . . "Why in New York and everywhere else they crowded around and begged for our autographs and here not one!" she lamented with candor so touching that I whipped out a pencil and paper and thrust it at her. . . . The sisters, Maxene and Laverne and Patty, are swing-singing nights at a local jitterbug emporium, while they make their picture "Argentine Nights" with the Ritz Brothers in the daytime. . . . They'll do a combination rhumba-boogie dance in the movie, too. . . .

Allan Jones, whose previous business ventures have been movie-acting and a riding stable (with Bob Young) is planning an office building equipped with a penthouse projection room—as a lure to movie agents now quartered on the Strip. . . .

* * *

Jackie Cooper, who got his high school diploma with his regular class, was a "guest grad." Practically his entire education was given him in the studios. . . . Jackie has a novel method for "stretching" his $25 weekly spending money which must cover "dates" and other expenses. . . . Jackie (his intimates reveal) shows acumen worthy of a financier. . . . He covers the highest spots with Judy Garland, Bonita Granville, Leila Ernst et al., and the secret is that often he takes his mother and stepfather along. . . . Toward the end of an evening Jackie develops a passion for staying on the dance floor . . . and stepfather Charles Lindelow takes the check. . . .

Dorothy Lamour's hair-cut has improved her looks about 1,000 per cent. . . . Harry Shannon, the tugboat captain in "Tugboat Annie Sails Again," owns the voice that was one of the first recorded in the talkies.

Fans Stage Near-Riot as Braves Lose 11-Inning Tilt, 7-6

Place Seven Men

Minneapolis Club Tops List For All-Star Tussle With Kansas City.

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Headed by seven members of the second-place Minneapolis Millers, the American association all-stars will battle the league-leading Blues in Kansas City's Ruppert stadium Wednesday night July 17.

Aiding the seven Millers will be four Columbus Red Birds, three St. Paul Saints, two Indianapolis Indians, two Milwaukee Brewers, one Toledo Mud Hen and one Louisville Colonel.

* * *

The official all-star team, as selected by the Association Chapter of Baseball Writers, was: first base, Phil Weintraub, Minneapolis; second base, Gerald Priddy, Kansas City; third base, Gil English, St. Paul; shortstop, Phil Rizzuto, Kansas City; utility infielders, Jack Saltzgaver, Kansas City, and Bob Reis, St. Paul.

* * *

Outfielders: Harry Walker of Columbus, and Harvey Walker, Robert Estalella and Ab Wright, all of Minneapolis; catchers, Otto Denning of Minneapolis, John Riddle of Kansas City, and Dick West of Indianapolis; pitchers: Harry Brecheen of Columbus, Bob Logan of Indianapolis, Art Herring of St. Paul, and Ernie Bonham and John Lindell, both of Kansas City.

Since Kansas is the host city, its selections are replaced by second team all-star members. Last year the Blues, as hosts, lost to the all-stars by 19 to 7.

* * *

Priddy gives way to Johnny Lucadello of Toledo, and Rizzuto is replaced by Gene Geary of Minneapolis. Saltzgaver vacates his utility berth in favor of Jimmy Bucher of Columbus, while Walker Cooper, another Red Bird, takes over Riddle's catching assignment. Pitching replacements for Bonham and Lindell are Bob Kline of Milwaukee and Elon Hogsett of Minneapolis.

* * *

To complete the all-star squad, Manager Tom Sheehan of Minneapolis, the pilot, picked Shortstop Woodrow Williams of Louisville and Outfielder Ted Gullic of Milwaukee.

Here are Polo Teams Which Played In First Match at Raemelton

Umps Start It All

Officials Escorted to Car By Scott to Avoid Trouble; Woman Hits One.

By CHARLES MARTIN

UMPIRE JIM VENNARI of the Ohio State league will never be forgotten by some 300 rabid Mansfield Brave followers.

The circuit official apparently couldn't tell a strike from a ball out at the Fairground last night when the Findlay Oilers took a thrilling 7 to 6 decision from Mansfield in an 11-inning contest, and the fans and players readily showed their feelings by staging a near-riot.

* * *

Findlay won the tussle with a tally in the 11th, but after Mansfield was retired the hostile fans started gathering around and Groundskeeper Larry Scott, assisted by a couple of Brave players, escorted Vennari and Buck Slavin out of the park into their auto.

* * *

But even then the fans refused to stop their shouting as to what they wanted to do to Vennari. It all ended there as the club officials sent the officials on their way.

One highlight of the incident that will remain for quite a spell was the beautiful clout an unidentified tall, brunet feminine fan laid on Vennari's chin when the latter was passing the main refreshment stand. Nobody seemed to know her name, but she is a devoted fan and never misses a contest.

It isn't likely that Vennari will return to Mansfield again, Joe C. Hartline, club president, announced today. Hartline also said that the contest was played under protest.

The fans got "on" Vennari in the first inning last night when Pitcher Angaran walked the first two men to face him. He squawked about several of the pitches, but it was to no avail.

And from there on in things got hotter and hotter—until the blow-up in the 10th when Vennari tossed Manager Dewey Stover out of the game for protesting a strike called on Angaran. Stover merely asked Vennari about the situation after Tony kicked, and Vennari immediately ordered him from the field. The Brave officials protested the game at that time.

In the 11th, Slavin pulled a "boner" when he called Howard Beals out at first after the first baseman had dropped the ball. Although it probably wouldn't have made any difference, it didn't ease the feelings of the spectators.

Mansfield fell behind in the early innings, but came back to finally knot the score in the last of the ninth when Herb Woodten cracked out a 400-foot home run over the batter's eye in centerfield. Incidentally, it was the first time any player has ever hit a homer over the mark.

Angaran ran into trouble in the first three frames then settled down to hurl shutout ball until the 11th when the Oilers scored the deciding run.

There was some argument about that run, too. Huelsman came in from third on Cannon's towering fly to George Laurila, who replaced Siover in right field. George heaved the ball to Walt Missler and Huelsman took a flying leap at the plate.

The Brave players rushed toward home plate after Vennari called Huelsman safe, claiming that the Findlay catcher failed to touch the plate.

Findlay tallied three times in the first, added a run in the second and two more in the third to take the advantage. Angaran, however, limited the winners to two hits until the 11th.

Mansfield had trouble solving Southpaw Prussing's slants for a while, but finally scored two in the third. The Braves collected two more in the seventh and added another in the eighth and tied the score in the ninth on Woodten's healthy clout.

* * *

Dick Morse and Stover paced the Braves at the plate with three hits apiece. Both had a double and two singles. Woodten also secured a single and got on base the first two times when he was hit by pitched balls.

* * *

Mansfield invades Lima to meet the Pandas tonight and will return to the Fair park Friday night to meet Fostoria before a "Shelby" night gathering. A preliminary game, between the Shelby and Ashland baseball teams will open the program at 7 p. m.

First Lutherans Keep Church League Lead

FIRST Lutheran softballers were still out in front in the Y. M. C. A. Church league today after winning by a forfeit from St. John's Evangelical yesterday.

* * *

Because the St. John's club could not put a sufficient number of players on the field, the Lutherans brought their record to three wins and no losses for the current season.

* * *

Pressing the First Lutherner close for top position, the Congregational outfit scored a smashing 15 to 7 victory over the First Presbyterians yesterday at North Lake park's diamond.

Scott, Congregational shortstop, and Jelliff, Congregational rightfielder, shared the batting spotlight by getting four hits out of six trips to the plate. Brandt and Templeton led the Presbys with three hits apiece.

Bush was on the mound for the Congregationals, while Brandt toed the slab for the First Presbyterians.

Softball Combines Tangle In Feature Tilt At Liberty Park

MANAGER FRED WILLIS of the Ringside Nite club softball team will send either Henry Deschner or Paul Appleman to the hill at 6 p. m. today at Liberty park in an effort to hand the Sons of Herman their first setback of the season.

The Ringside combine, which registered a twin victory over the Isaly Dairy team Sunday, will be at full strength as it battles the unbeaten Hermans in a challenge game.

Against this outfit, Manager Frank Becher of the Hermans will select Jimmy Fullager, ace righthander, to handle the mound duties as his club seeks its eighth straight triumph.

Illini Commission Decides Fights On 'Up-and-Up'

CHICAGO—(AP)—The Illinois State Athletic commission has decided that "fixed fight" charges involving lightweights Max Schmeling, Tony Galento and Harry Thomas were not substantiated by a six-month investigation of the sport.

The commission in a report issued yesterday said its inquiry failed to uncover evidence to back up the charges attributed to Thomas that the outcome of his fights with the other two boxers was pre-arranged.

* * *

The Chicago Tribune last Oct. 31 quoted Thomas as saying both fights were "fixed." Thomas lost to Schmeling Dec. 13, 1937, in New York on a technical knockout in the eighth round.

* * *

Galento defeated Thomas Nov. 11, 1938, in Philadelphia on a technical knockout in the third round. The Tribune story was written by Arch Ward, sports editor.

* * *

The commission said Thomas has "remained absolutely silent" since the story appeared, the fighter declining to appear before the commission or give a written statement of his charges.

Merchant Club Loses, 16-12

Mansfielders Drop Decision To Theater Outfit.

Mansfield's Merchant Girls softball club stretched five hits into 12 runs but still couldn't get enough of them as the Star Theater softballers outslugged the Mansfielders 16 to 12 in Upper Sandusky last night.

* * *

Gottfried, who was on the mound for the Upper Sandusky club, allowed the Mansfield outfit 12 walks and was credited with the win. Clark and Blank took over the mound duties for the Merchants, allowing 15 hits.

* * *

Swartz, Star Theater shortstop, lead the hitters with four hits out of four trips to the batter's box.

Gillespie Out For Top Rank

Miami Star Stands Chance To Take Tennis Title.

NEW YORK—(AP)—Meet a tall young fellow who would like to see his name opposite that 1 in the national tennis rankings. and who stands better than a good chance, Billy Gillespie of Atlanta and the University of Miami.

* * *

He's taking a modest route by way of the clay courts. He got off in front in the New York state championships and was the first to reach the round of 16. Billy used to play for Scarborough school near here and usually lost to Marvin Kantrowitz of DeWitt Clinton high. Sunday his third round opponent was Kantrowitz, now of Lehigh, and Gillespie won in three tough sets. Billy is somewhat bigger and a lot better than he was in his schoolboy days.

* * *

Right now he seems headed for a match with top seeded Don McNeill of Oklahoma City, who didn't reach the tourney until yesterday and then caught up by means of a convenient default and a couple of easy victories. Billy probably will lose that match, but he has a chance to show how good he is.

And if you'll look back a few years you may recall that it was in the New York state clay court tourney that a youngster from Kenyon college by the name of Don McNeill got a flying start on the road to fame. Don holds the national clay courts and intercollegiate titles now and is still moving up. Gillespie may be the one to follow in his footsteps.

Settle Down To Find Champ

Ohio Women Golfers Start Search at Tourney.

CINCINNATI —(AP)— Ohio's women golfers settled down to the business of finding a champion today, with a prospect of the hottest exhibition of the royal and ancient game coming in the first round of the Losantiville course.

The day's pairings find the defending champion in the state women's tourney, Mrs. Linton Fallis of Toledo, up against Mrs. Mont Reid of Cincinnati. Mrs. Reid, former city titlist, shot 37-38—75—par for the course—in yesterday's qualifying round and became an overnight favorite. Mrs. Fallis qualified with 40-45—85.

Another Cincinnatian, Mrs. Burt Weil, who has held the championship herself three times, shot 37-39—76. The rest of the 16 qualifiers ranged from 81 to 89.

Other pairings, in the title flight, with qualifying scores in parenthesis, included:

Dorothy Gardner of Steubenville (43-41—84) vs. Marjorie Wendel of Dayton (42-45—87).

Mrs. Weil vs. Carol Sherrets of Coshocton (42-44—86. Janet Shock of Dayton (43-40—83) vs. Virginia Boos of Cleveland (42-44—86.)

Minneapolis Club Tops List For All-Star Tussle With Kansas City.

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Headed by seven members of the second-place Minneapolis Millers, the American association all-stars will battle the league-leading Blues in Kansas City's Ruppert stadium Wednesday night, July 17.

Aiding the seven Millers will be four Columbus Red Birds, three St. Paul Saints, two Indianapolis Indians, two Milwaukee Brewers, one Toledo Mud Hen and one Louisville Colonel.

* * *

The official all-star team, as selected by the Association Chapter of Baseball Writers, was: first base, Phil Weintraub, Minneapolis; second base, Gerald Priddy, Kansas City; third base, Gil English, St. Paul; shortstop, Phil Rizzuto, Kansas City; utility infielders, Jack Saltzgaver, Kansas City, and Bob Reis, St. Paul.

* * *

Outfielders: Harry Walker of Columbus, and Harvey Walker, Robert Estalella and Ab Wright, all of Minneapolis; catchers, Otto Denning of Minneapolis, John Riddle of Kansas City, and Dick West of Indianapolis; pitchers: Harry Brecheen of Columbus, Bob Logan of Indianapolis, Art Herring of St. Paul, and Ernie Bonham and John Lindell, both of Kansas City.

Since Kansas is the host city, its selections are replaced by second team all-star members. Last year the Blues, as hosts, lost to the all-stars by 19 to 7.

* * *

Priddy gives way to Johnny Lucadello of Toledo, and Rizzuto is replaced by Gene Geary of Minneapolis. Saltzgaver vacates his utility berth in favor of Jimmy Bucher of Columbus, while Walker Cooper, another Red Bird, takes over Riddle's catching assignment. Pitching replacements for Bonham and Lindell are Bob Kline of Milwaukee and Elon Hogsett of Minneapolis.

* * *

To complete the all-star squad, Manager Tom Sheehan of Minneapolis, the pilot, picked Shortstop Woodrow Williams of Louisville and Outfielder Ted Gullic of Milwaukee.

These two polo clubs tangled at Raemelton Farm field in the first outdoor match of the season Sunday. The White team, pictured at the left, won the match by a 5 to 2 score over the Blue club. Members of the White team are, left to right, James Hardin, Louis Ott and William Weldon. Making up the Blue team are, left to right, Ted Lusignan, George and Spencer Draffan.

Umps Start It All

Officials Escorted to Car By Scott to Avoid Trouble; Woman Hits One.

By CHARLES MARTIN

UMPIRE JIM VENNARI of the Ohio State league will never be forgotten by some 300 rabid Mansfield Brave followers.

The circuit official apparently couldn't tell a strike from a ball out at the Fairground last night when the Findlay Oilers took a thrilling 7 to 6 decision from Mansfield in an 11-inning contest, and the fans and players readily showed their feelings by staging a near-riot.

* * *

Findlay won the tussle with a tally in the 11th, but after Mansfield was retired the hostile fans started gathering around and Groundskeeper Larry Scott, assisted by a couple of Brave players, escorted Vennari and Buck Slavin out of the park into their auto.

* * *

But even then the fans refused to stop their shouting as to what they wanted to do to Vennari. It all ended there as the club officials sent the officials on their way.

One highlight of the incident that will remain for quite a spell was the beautiful clout an unidentified tall, brunet feminine fan laid on Vennari's chin when the latter was passing the main refreshment stand. Nobody seemed to know her name, but she is a devoted fan and never misses a contest.

It isn't likely that Vennari will return to Mansfield again, Joe C. Hartline, club president, announced today. Hartline also said that the contest was played under protest.

The fans got "on" Vennari in the first inning last night when Pitcher Angaran walked the first two men to face him. He squawked about several of the pitches, but it was to no avail.

And from there on in things got hotter and hotter—until the blow-up in the 10th when Vennari tossed Manager Dewey Stover out of the game for protesting a strike called on Angaran. Stover mercly asked Vennari about the situation after Tony kicked, and Vennari immediately ordered him from the field. The Brave officials protested the game at that time.

In the 11th, Slavin pulled a "boner" when he called Howard Beals out at first after the first baseman had dropped the ball. Although it probably wouldn't have made any difference, it didn't ease the feelings of the spectators.

Mansfield fell behind in the early innings, but came back to finally knot the score in the last of the ninth when Herb Woodten cracked out a 400-foot home run over the batter's eye in centerfield. Incidentially, it was the first time any player has ever hit a homer over the mark.

Angaran ran into trouble in the first three frames then settled down to hurl shutout ball until the 11th when the Oilers scored the deciding run.

There was some argument about that run, too. Huelsman came in from third on Cannon's towering fly to George Laurila, who replaced Stover in right field. George heaved the ball to Walt Missler and Huelsman took a flying leap at the plate.

The Brave players rushed toward home plate after Vennari called Huelsman safe, claiming that the Findlay catcher failed to touch the plate.

Findlay tallied three times in the first, added a run in the second and two more in the third to take the advantage. Angaran, however, limited the winners to two hits until the 11th.

Mansfield had trouble solving Southpaw Prussing's slants for a while, but finally scored two in the third. The Braves collected two more in the seventh and added another in the eighth and tied the score in the ninth on Woodten's healthy clout.

* * *

Dick Morse and Stover paced the Braves at the plate with three hits apiece. Both had a double and two singles. Woodten also secured a single and got on base the first two times when he was hit by pitched balls.

* * *

Mansfield invades Lima to meet the Pandas tonight and will return to the Fair park Friday night to meet Fostoria before a "Shelby" night gathering. A preliminary game, between the Shelby and Ashland baseball teams will open the program at 7 p. m.

First Lutherans Keep Church League Lead

FIRST Lutheran softballers were still out in front in the Y. M. C. A. Church league today after winning by a forfeit from St. John's Evangelical yesterday.

* * *

Because the St. John's club could not put a sufficient number of players on the field, the Lutheranns brought their record to three wins and no losses for the current season.

* * *

Pressing the First Luthermen close for top position, the Congregational outfit scored a smashing 15 to 7 victory over the First Presbyterians yesterday at North Lake park's diamond.

Scott, Congregational shortstop, and Jelliff, Congregational rightfielder, shared the batting spotlight by getting four hits out of six trips to the plate. Brandt and Templeton led the Presbys with three hits apiece.

Bush was on the mound for the Congregationals, while Brandt toed the slab for the First Presbyterians.

Softball Combines Tangle In Feature Tilt At Liberty Park

MANAGER FRED WILLIS of the Ringside Nite club softball team will send either Henry Deschner or Paul Appleman to the hill at 6 p. m. today at Liberty park in an effort to hand the Sons of Herman their first setback of the season.

The Ringside combine, which registered a twin victory over the Isaly Dairy team Sunday, will be at full strength as it battles the unbeaten Hermans in a challenge game.

Against this outfit, Manager Frank Beeber of the Hermans will select Jimmy Fullager, ace righthander, to handle the mound duties as his club seeks its eighth straight triumph.

Mansfielders Drop Decision To Theater Outfit.

Mansfield's Merchant Girls softball club stretched five hits into 12 runs but still couldn't get enough of them as the Star Theater softballers outslugged the Mansfielders 16 to 12 in Upper Sandusky last night.

* * *

Gottfried, who was on the mound for the Upper Sandusky club, allowed the Mansfield outfit 12 walks and was credited with the win. Clark and Blank took over the mound duties for the Merchants, allowing 15 hits.

Illini Commission Decides Fights On 'Up-and-Up'

CHICAGO—(AP)—The Illinois State Athletic commission has decided the "six eight" charges involving heavyweights Max Schmeling, Tony Galento and Harry Thomas were not substantiated by a six-month investigation.

* * *

The commission in a report issued yesterday said its inquiry failed to uncover evidence to back up the charges attributed to Thomas that the outcome of his fights with the other two boxers was pre-arranged.

* * *

The Chicago Tribune last Oct. 31 quoted Thomas as saying both fights were "fixed." Thomas lost to Schmeling Dec. 13, 1937, in New York on a technical knockout in the eighth round.

* * *

Galento defeated Thomas Nov. 11, 1938, in Philadelphia on a technical knockout in the third round. The Tribune story was written by Arch Ward, sports editor.

* * *

The commission said Thomas was ordered absolutely silent when the story appeared, the fighter declaring to appear before the commission to give a written statement of the charges.

But a five-run rally in the fifth frame gave them the winning point, as the Schoolmasters chalked up an 8 to 7 victory.

Scoles was on the mound for the Schoolmasters, while Durigg took over the mound duties for the W.B. Union. Weber, Union shortstop, poled out the only home run of the contest. The Schoolmasters are in number one position in the Club league.

Reds, Bees Fall Before Association Onslaught.

By Associated Press

Indianapolis and Toledo, seventh and eighth place clubs in the American association, won the "wrong" games yesterday in an unusual program of contests.

* * *

The Indians thrashed the Cincinnati Reds, 7 to 2, in a seven-inning exhibition game, and then fell before St. Paul in a league battle, 3 to 1.

* * *

Toledo defeated the Boston Bees, 10 to 9, in the afternoon but bowed to Kansas City's leaders at night, 5 to 4, in a game cut to eight innings by rain.

Bill Swift set the Indians down with six hits and had a shutout until Dick West homered in the last of the ninth. The victory enabled St. Paul to move into fourth place one full game behind the second Louisville Colonels.

The Blues' triumph increased their lead over idle Minneapolis to two full games.

Louisville muddles through to a 10 to 8 victory over Minneapolis.

Fine Wade turned in a three-hit pitching performance of the contest, giving Milwaukee three hits as the Brewers won 5 to 3. Milwaukee dropped from fourth to sixth place one percentage point behind their conquerors.

Manager Joe Cronin Sends Five New Yorkers Against Nationals

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—On the theory that what was good enough five times out of seven was good enough again, Manager Joe Cronin of the American league all-stars sent five New York Yankees to the firing line today against the National loop's best in the eighth midsummer baseball show.

Cronin's choice of Yankee Pitcher Red Ruffing, victor in only seven of 13 starts, and four of his everyday, fourth-place playmates immediately solidified the opposition and turned his own forces into such chaos that last-minute revision of his lineup is not unlikely.

Louis (Buck) Newsom, vocal pitcher for the Detroit Tigers who has won 12 games in a row, threatened to deny the 33,000 spectators a chance to watch him if Cronin stuck to his decision of five Yanks, two Boston reliables and one each from Washington and Chicago as the starting nine.

* * *

As hot as the arguments were, the weatherman promised ideal conditions for the game with fair skies and a temperature near 90.

* * *

But apparently the Yankees of the past, like girls with rouged lips eating corn-on-the-cob, left their marks as Cronin ignored such youngsters as Lou Boudreau and Ray Mack of Cleveland, for the "old folks."

And although the payees will be denied the chance of seeing the Indian infield papooses start, Cronin declared he would substitute freely. It is also likely that Lou Finney of the Boston Red Sox, benched by the Yank-loaded outfield, also will swing his heavy bat in a relief role.

Meanwhile silent Bill McKechnie of the Nationals nominated players from six different clubs for his starters and said he hoped to use all 25 players on his roster. He couldn't make up his mind whether to start Paul Derringer or Bucky Walters, both of his league leading Reds, as the starting hurler until a final peek at them in their warmups.

Despite the blasts aroused by the American league lineup the team's supporters agreed on one thing. The past four years their theme has been that "the Yanks can beat them." Today they merely added a word and sang "even the Yanks can beat them."

McKechnie bolstered his lineup with lefthanded hitters with Ruffing's selection and benched Frank McCormick, Reds' first-sacker, in favor of the Cardinals' Johnny Mize. McCormick has played every inning in every all-star game since he entered the big leagues.

The managers' failure to name Barney McCosky of Detroit, Bob Radcliff of the hometown Browns, and Dixie Walker of the Brooklyn Dodgers—all leading candidates in their respective positions this season—drew censure.

* * *

The major league magnates last night recommended some method be devised by which the fans may indicate whom they would like to see play in the annual dream game. Detroit was awarded the 1941 contest.

* * *

The National league fathers opposed helmets for batters but did not make the innovation compulsory.

SPORTS PARADE

By HENRY McLEMORE

NEW YORK—Kindly, generous, and philanthropic Eddie Mead, who thinks so little of money that he sold the "e" off the end of his name to an alphabet soup company, was faced with a very perplexing problem today.

* * *

Sometime within the next week Mead, who manages Henry Armstrong, must decide which he would rather do—hurt his fighter by half-starving him so he can make 140 pounds for a fight with Lew Jenkins, or hurt his own wallet by calling off the fight and forfeiting the $2,500 he put up with the New York boxing commission to guarantee Armstrong's appearance at the stipulated weight.

* * *

Those close to Mead—and that means nearly everybody in the same block, because he is that big—report that Eddie is suffering the age old tortures of a man torn between two loves. He looks at thin, drawn Armstrong, whose natural weight is close to 150 pounds, and almost bursts into tears. He then looks at his thin, drawn wallet, whose normal weight is around ten grand, and does burst into tears.

All in all, it is a pathetic situation. If Mead feeds Armstrong, Armstrong can't fight. And if Armstrong can't fight, Mead can't feed himself. It is the most vicious circle since the second Dempsey-Tunney fight, in which you will recall Dempsey was vicious and Tunney circled.

There being such a beautiful brotherhood among fight managers, it was only natural that Mead sought advice in his dilemma from Hymie Caplin, the kindly, generous and philanthropic manager of Lew Jenkins. Over a beer, which a third party paid for, the understanding Caplin, and the misunderstood Mead talked over the problem.

Mead, in an offer of compromise, suggested that Armstrong's welterweight title be placed on the line in the fight, and that his man be allowed to come in at the welter weight of 147 pounds.

Caplin snorted graciously and, couching his refusal in the language of diplomacy, said:

* * *

"We don't want no part of the welter weight title. To fight for the welter championship we would have to give up our lightweight title, because the new commission ruling says a champion to fight for a title in another class, has to first give up the championship he owns. We ain't giving up something we got for something we got to gamble for."

* * *

They parted on these friendly, platonical terms, because each knew that the other was not going to jeopardize a big slice of a possible $150,000 gate for a paltry $2,500 guarantee. Under the terms of the contract drawn up for the fight, which is scheduled for the Polo grounds July 17, Jenkins gets 27½ per cent and Armstrong the same. Just what cut the managers get out of the fighters' cuts is not known, but you can rest assured it is little more than normal usury rates.

Showers Beat Out Entries

Rain Curtails Race Opener But Florimel Wins.

TOLEDO—(AP)—Rain beat most of the entries to the starting line as grand circuit harness racing opened a five-day stand with a curtailed program last night—but it didn't overtake Florimel.

The bay filly won the $1,500 Peninsular farm stake for two-year-old trotters in straight heats before an electrical storm broke over the Fort Miami track, sending 3,000 spectators to shelter.

Piloted by Harry Pownall, Florimel led by several lengths in each heat, finishing in 2:08⅘ and 2:10. Bill Gallon, bay colt driven by Lee Smith, finished second in both heats.

Rain held off long enough for Greyhound, world champion trotter, to capture the first heat of the free-for-all trot, carrying a purse of $3,000. John Caton drove Dale Hanover to second place and Bravo, driven by Harry Whitney, finished third.

The two remaining heats of the free-for-all, along with three other races scheduled for the opening program, will be run tonight.

NEW YORK — (AP) — Scooparade. Postmaster-General Farley has been patrolling Wall Street for two weeks trying to raise enough millions to buy the Yanks . . . also, the firm which does the club's accounting has received a rush order for a complete financial statement on each of the farm clubs . . . so there is something in the air besides the gentle zephyrs . . . BUSINESS NOTE.

The Yankees drew 68,135 people in two days and one night in Philly - more than the Phils have drawn there all season . . . Also, Cincinnati concessionaires sold 68,000 bottles of soft drinks during a recent double header . . . Few know it, but Jimmy Demaretf is as proficient a greenskeeper and golf course architect as he is a player and teacher.

FELLER'S FEARS.

Somebody asked Bob Feller to name the five most dangerous hitters in the American league . . . he listed Charlie Gehringer, Taft Wright, Rip Radcliff, Joe DiMaggio and Ted Williams . . . Honorable mention: Jimmy Foxx, Bobby Doerr and Joe Gordon.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Miami Star Stands Chance To Take Tennis Title.

NEW YORK—(AP)—Meet a tall young fellow who would like to see his name opposite that 1 in the national tennis rankings, and who stands better than a good chance, Billy Gillespie of Atlanta and the University of Miami.

* * *

He's taking a modest route by way of the clay courts. He got off in front in the New York state championships and was the first to reach the round of 16. Billy used to play for Scarborough school near here and usually lost to Marvin Kantrowitz of DeWitt Clinton high. Sunday his third round opponent was Kantrowitz, now of Lehigh, and Gillespie won in three tough sets. Billy is somewhat bigger and a lot better than he was in his schoolboy days.

* * *

Right now he seems headed for a match with top seeded Don McNeill of Oklahoma City, who didn't reach the tourney until yesterday and then caught up by means of a convenient default and a couple of easy victories. Billy probably will lose that match, but he has a chance to show how good he is.

And if you'll look back a few years you may recall that it was in the New York state clay court tourney that a youngster from Kenyon college by the name of Don McNeill got a flying start on the road to fame. Don holds the national clay courts and intercollegiate titles now and is still moving up. Gillespie may be the one to follow in his footsteps.

Settle Down To Find Champ

Ohio Women Golfers Start Search at Tourney.

CINCINNATI—(AP)—Ohio's women golfers settled down to the business of finding a champion today, with a prospect of the hottest exhibition of the royal and ancient game coming in the first round of the Losantiville course.

The day's pairings find the defending champion in the state women's tourney, Mrs. Linton Fallis of Toledo, up against Mrs. Mont Reid of Cincinnati. Mrs. Reid, former city titlist, shot 37-38—75—par for the course—in yesterday's qualifying round and became an overnight favorite. Mrs. Fallis qualified with 40-45—85.

Another Cincinnatian, Mrs. Burt Weil, who has held the championship herself three times, shot 37-39—76. The rest of the 16 qualifiers ranged from 81 to 89.

Other pairings, in the title flight, with qualifying scores in parenthesis, included:

Dorothy Gardner of Steubenville (43-41—84) vs. Marjorie Wendel of Dayton (42-45—87).

Mrs. Weil vs. Carol Sherrets of Coshocton (42-44—86. Janet Shock of Dayton (43-40—83) vs. Virginia Boos of Cleveland (42-44—86.)

SHERIFF'S SALE IN PARTITION

Howard H. Balliet Vs. Effie J. Collins, et al.

By virtue of an Order of Sale in Partition, issued from the Court of Common Pleas of Richland County, Ohio, and to me directed, I will offer at Public Sale, at the door of the Court House, in the City of Mansfield, Richland County Ohio, on Saturday, July 20th, 1940 at 10:00 o'clock A. M. of said day, the following described lands and tenements:

SITUATED IN THE TOWNSHIP OF MONROE, COUNTY OF RICHLAND AND STATE OF OHIO.

Being the Northeast quarter of Section No. 9, Township 22, of Range 17, containing 160 acres of land; save and except therefrom a tract beginning at the north-east corner of said north-east quarter, thence running south with the section line 56 perches and 14 links to a post; thence west with a variation of 5 degrees 56 perches and 14 links to a post, thence north with a variation of 5 degrees 56 perches and 14 links to a post on the north boundary line of said quarter, thence east with the section line 56 perches and 14 links to the place of beginning, containing 20 acres of land, and save and except therefrom 7½ acres out of the northwest corner of said northeast quarter, belonging now to Sarah Smith and Mary Dukes, and being that part of said North-east quarter lying northwest of Tucker Road No. 555, and containing in the part to be conveyed 12½ acres more or less. ALSO a part of the Northwest quarter of said Section No. Township 22, Range 17 being all that part of said quarter lying southeast of Tucker Road No. 555 which road runs through said quarter in a northeasterly and southwesterly direction, containing 19½ acres, and being the premises conveyed by Andrew Ballict et al., to James M. Ballict by deed dated Nov. 30, 1877, recorded in Vol 72 at Page 216, except therefrom that part sold and conveyed by Kate Ballict as Administratrix with the will annexed of the estate of James M. Ballict Deceased to Silas Rummel by deed dated Dec 12 1896, recorded in Vol 115 at Page 212, to which deeds reference is hereby made. Containing in all 152 acres of land. Subject to a lease for planting of corn in 1940 to Dr. Carl Schmucker, purchaser of corn to be paid $2.00 per acre for each acre so planted by him.

Said premises located in improved highway State Route No. 39 about one-fourth mile east of Lucas.

Terms of sale 20% Cash on day of sale and balance upon delivery of deed.

Appraised at $5,760.00 and cannot be sold for less than two-thirds of said value.

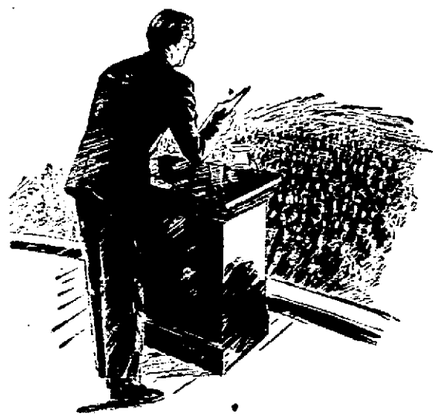
Advertisers—
Our circulation is your Audience



IF you were going to buy the privilege of talking to a theatre audience about your business you would want to know all about the audience. How many people? Where do they live? How much did they pay to get in? The answers to these questions would have a bearing on the value of the audience to your business.

THESE are the things you want to know about the people who read your advertising too. In the circulation of this newspaper we offer you an interested audience of people who can use your merchandise and service.

Just as a merchant buys and sells merchandise on the basis of known standards of quality, weight and measure, so are we prepared to tell advertisers all about our circulation.

That's why we belong to the Audit Bureau of Circulations—to give our advertisers a verified count and description of the audience that they get when they buy advertising in this paper. There are definite standards for advertising values as well as for merchandise. We believe that newspaper advertising should be bought and sold on the basis of these standards.

The Audit Bureau of Circulations is a national, cooperative association of 2000 publishers, advertisers and advertising agencies. The Bureau has a staff of skilled auditors and once a year these men visit all publisher members and make a careful audit of their circulation records. The information from these audits is then issued in reports which are available to advertisers.

Only through these A.B.C. reports can you get verified facts and figures about the audience that you will talk to when you buy advertising space. They are your assurance that you will get what you pay for because they describe and analyze net paid circulation—how large it is, where it is, how it was secured. Protect your advertising investment by using these A.B.C. reports.

THE MANSFIELD NEWS-JOURNAL

Bares Axis Plan For 3-Fold Attack Against Britain

(By Associated Press)

ROME—An Italian-German agreement for a three-fold attack on Britain was reported today by Virginio Gayda, usually authoritative Fascist editor.

The Axis partners, Gayda said, are determined:

1. To blockade the British Isles.
2. To break Britain's empire contacts.
3. To defeat her "at home, in imperial territories" and at sea.

Each Axis power has definitely assigned tasks for these goals, Gayda, editor of Il Giornale D'Italia, said.

Italy's job, he declared, is to strike at the British at four places on land and harass British shipping in the Atlantic, Mediterranean, Red sea and Indian ocean and, above all, immobilize a large part of Britain's seapower in the Mediterranean.

On land, Gayda said, Italy is assigned to strike at Egypt from Cyrenaica, in Libya, at the British-Egyptian Sudan from East Africa, at Kenya and at British Somaliland.

Italian action against Sollum; capture of Kassala, British fort in Moyale, and bombardment of Aden and Perim were indications of Italians initiative along these lines, Gayda said.

Foreign Oil Company Offices Put Under Guard

(By Associated Press)

BUCHAREST—Rumanian soldiers with rifles and bayonets suddenly cordoned the offices of all foreign oil companies, including American, today to prevent the removal of plans or papers concerning Rumania's rich oil fields.

Simultaneously, a report spread that the British were negotiating to sell their oil interests in this Balkan kingdom to Russia.

American oilmen said they had been informed that the soldiers on guard at the foreign company offices had been instructed to stop any attempt to remove data concerning oil supplies which are vital to Germany's war machine.

BLOW: Nazis Claim Rebuffs To British In Air, On Sea

(By United Press)

BERLIN—The German high command today claimed to have inflicted heavy losses on British shipping and the official news agency DNB reported that of 12 British planes which this morning raided the Sola airdrome at Stavanger, Norway, all had been shot down.

The high command in a communique from Adolf Hitler's field headquarters reported torpedoing by a German U-boat of the British destroyer Whirlwind and said that several merchant ships, including an 11,000-ton naval tanker, had been destroyed.

(The British officially admitted the loss of the Whirlwind.)

The high command said German planes had bombed wharves at Devonport, England, oil tanks at Ipswich, Canvey island, Thames Haven and Tilbury and munitions works at Harwick as well as chemical works at Billingham.

German planes also bombed a cruiser, one destroyer and five merchant ships in the English channel, according to the high command.

It claimed that several planes had been destroyed on the ground at English airports and that 11 British planes had been shot down over Germany.

Long lists of death notices, now appearing daily in German newspapers, indicated today that the German army suffered its heaviest losses crossing the Aisne river northeast of Paris June 9, and in storming the Maginot line around Verdun.

DENY PLANE LOSSES

LONDON —(AP)— Official British sources said today that a report of DNB, the official German news agency, that 12 British bombing planes had been shot down in a raid on Stavanger, Norway, was false.

AWARDED $20 A MONTH

ASHLAND — Judgment for the plaintiff for $240 was made in common pleas court in the action of Dorothy Fay Solsman-gel vs. Ward B. Slessinger. The defendant was ordered to pay $20 monthly for support of a minor child.

They're Helping War Refugees

These two Mansfield children are spending much of their summer funds to aid the war-desolated children of Europe, and they are doing it through their own work. They have already turned in $3.21 to the Red Cross, which they earned by making artistic little scratch pads and bridge score cards. At the left is Barbara Bowles, 9, of 525 Crescent road. Opposite her is Judith MacLean, 8, of 500 Lexington avenue. They design and decorate their cards and pads themselves, and then go out and sell them.

with 12 members of the Republican national committee. Willkie hoped to visit the capitol to talk with a group of senators interested in making a "keep out of war" campaign. The group included Senators Johnson (R-Calif.), Nye (R-N.D.), and Vandenberg (R-Mich.)

The presidential nominee met his running mate, Sen. Charles L. McNary of Oregon, for the first time late yesterday, and afterward reported that they were in "full accord" on campaign plans.

Farley In Chicago, But Keeps Secret.

BULLETIN

CHICAGO —(U.P.)— Postmaster General James A. Farley's name will be placed in nomination for president next week before the Democratic national convention, he revealed today in an enigmatic reply to a press conference question.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON —(U.P.)— Federal Security Administrator Paul V. McNutt intimated indirectly after a conference with President Roosevelt today that he believes that the chief executive will seek a third term.

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
(By International News Service)

CHICAGO — Still silent and smilingly evasive on the question of whether President Roosevelt intends to accept renomination for a third term, Postmaster General James A. Farley arrived in Chicago today to make final preparations for the Democratic National convention which opens Monday.

"I stand on what I said in Hyde Park after my conference with President Roosevelt on Sunday," said Farley as he stepped off the Twentieth Century limited.

Brushing aside numerous questions concerning published conjectural stories, Farley remarked that "it's a reporter's prerogative to venture his own opinion," and declined to shed any light on the third-term situation.

It is this reporter's opinion, after traveling from New York to Chicago with Farley, that Mr. Roosevelt will accept renomination, and that Farley will give up his job as Democratic national chairman, resign from the cabinet and take over the post of head of the New York American League baseball club.

Sawyer Calls Meeting of Ohio Committeemen.

COLUMBUS — (INS) — National Committeeman Charles Sawyer today issued a call for a caucus at 9:30 a. m. next Monday of Ohio's 60 delegates and 60 alternates to the Democratic national convention in Chicago.

The caucus will be held in the Palmer House, Chicago, headquarters of the Ohioans. At that time a delegation chairman will be selected and assignments will be made to the platform and other convention committees.

First session of the national convention is scheduled for noon Monday.

Sunday but were stopped by a marine patrol and that Japanese drove 125 motor trucks into the area yesterday.

Colonel Peck said he also had pointed out to Miura the "discourtesy" of the Japanese in failing to inform the Americans of Nishio's entrance into the sector Sunday.

Yesterday the marine commander said the Japanese gendarmes "were given exactly the same consideration and treatment as any man we arrest, including a medical examination."

Stronger Policy In Far East Indicated.

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) — President Roosevelt was believed to be planning new naval strategy in the Pacific today to support a steadily stiffening attitude toward Japanese pressure for a free hand in Asia.

This was the interpretation placed by diplomatic quarters on the surprise visit to Washington by Admiral J. R. Richardson, commander-in-chief of the fleet, and on other naval, military and diplomatic moves during the past week.

Richardson flew here from Hawaii in a navy plane while the major units of his fleet were undergoing routine overhaul at the Pearl Harbor naval base. Upon his arrival here he conferred for 90 minutes with President Roosevelt.

His White House appearance followed immediately a conference between the president and Lt. Col. Richard K. Southerland, army chief of staff in the Philippine Islands.

Japan Threatens Hong Kong Action.

TOKYO —(AP)— Informed quarters assserted today Japan is prepared to take military action against the British crown colony of Hongkong if Great Britain continues refusal to close the Burma route of aid to China.

These sources said Japanese plans are complete and merely await London's reply to a request for reconsideration of the refusal.

They pointed to the removal of women and children from Hong-Kong as an indication of the seriousness with which Britain views the situation.

The Japanese cabinet decided today to send new representations to Britain, and Domei, Japanese news agency, said the ministers expressed "strong opinions" in their meeting.

Neutral diplomatic quarters, expressing belief that Japan was not "bluffing," looked upon the Burma road affair as a test for Japan's entire program to assume and consolidate control over European-owned territories in Eastern Asia.

The Japanese war, navy and foreign ministries called emergency conferences to discuss British rejection yesterday of Japan's demand that this link between the Chinese nationalist forces and the outside world be cut off—as a means of ending the three-year-old Chinese-Japanese war.

Foreign Minister Hachiro Arita told British Ambassador Sir Robert Craigie the British reply was unsatisfactory and urged him to advise London to reconsider.

SETS UP NEW MEDICAL PLAN

Geauga County Doctors Help On Novel Health Service.

CHARDON — (AP) — Adequate medical service will be available to every one in Geauga county "regardless of his ability to pay," through organization of the Geauga medical service bureau, Dr. W. C. Corey, county health commissioner, said today.

Under the plan, a patient chooses his doctor, the latter decides what medical care is necessary and the bureau arranges for payments at intervals, William Mackey of Fairport, who formerly headed the federal farm securities division in this county, was named manager.

BRITISH TAKE FRENCH FLEET AT ALEXANDRIA

Threat of Another Sea Clash Between Former Allies Averted by Decision.

rumors had circulated that the French would solve the dilemma caused by Britain's ultimatum, by giving up the ships and sending the crews home.

Meanwhile, in London, the British house of commons was told that the French battleship, Richelieu, newest and mightiest of the French fleet, had been blasted by British depth bombs at Dakar, capital of French West Africa.

Announcement was made to the house by A. V. Alexander, first lord of the admiralty.

The 35,000-ton Richelieu is down by the stern and listing to port, Alexander announced.

Attack by depth charges yesterday was made after the French had failed to reply to British conditions, Alexander said.

He disclosed that the British navy had engaged in two further operations since its attack July 3 on French units at Oran to insure that France's fleet be kept from German and Italian hands.

Seven French capital ships now have been accounted for, he declared.

The depth charges which crippled the Richelieu were dropped from a motorboat close under the stern to damage propellers and steering gear, Alexander said, while aircraft dropped torpedoes.

All of the attackers escaped safely, he said.

The motorboat, Alexander told commons, was a ship's boat under Lieut. Cmdr. R. H. Bristowe which was sent into the harbor and carried out its mission "with great daring."

THREATENS LIFE OF PLANE-MAKER

Youth, Formerly Employed At Plant, Held By Police.

SANTA MONICA, Cal.—(INS)—A self-styled Communist who threatened to kill Donald Douglas, noted airplane manufacturer, was held in the city jail today pending an examination by psychiatrists.

The 24-year-old youth, Frank C. Thompson, was taken into custody by private police at the Douglas aircraft plant after he asserted:

"I'm a Communist and I've got a red flag up my sleeve. I'm going to get Douglas if it's the last thing I do."

Police said he formerly was employed at the plant.

Asks More Men In Mansfield Highway Patrol District

POLICE CHIEFS CLAIM FORCES UNDERMANNED

State Highway Director Takes Report Urging Changes Under Advisement.

An increase in personnel from 36 to 47 officers in the Massillon district of the state highway patrol, the district which includes Mansfield, was among sweeping changes recommended in a 136-page report of the International Association of Chiefs of Police to Robert S. Beightler, state highway director.

Describing the patrol as "seriously undermanned," the report said that Ohio, while fourth in population, miles of state highway and number of vehicles, ranked 10th in patrol size. It advocated changes in manpower, training and enforcement.

There are five patrolmen stationed at the Mansfield sub-station, and their equipment includes two patrol cars and three motorcycles. At present there are 36 officers stationed at Massillon and in sub-stations located at Mansfield, Medina, Kent, Mt. Vernon and Salem, according to officers at the Mansfield station.

Beightler said he would confer later this week with Patrol Supt. Lynn Black regarding the report. The recommendations, based upon the patrol in its present size, included:

1. Transfer of new drivers' examinations and school bus inspection to the bureau of motor vehicles, relieving patrolmen of weekly driving tests requiring 33 men and inspection of 5,756 school buses.

2. Substitution of one-man patrols for two-man, except where unusual hazards exist, and addition of 31 new cruisers to bring the patrolman-car ratio to 4-3. (On January 1 there were 93 motorcycles and 58 cars for the 128 uniformed patrolmen.)

3. Redistribution of personnel on the basis of accidents, traffic flow and highway mileage, with these district adjustments suggested: Findlay, increase from 27 to 30; Massillon, from 36 to 47; Wilmington, from 28 to 29; Cambridge, reduce from 28 to 19; Columbus headquarters, reduce from 9 to 3.

4. Elimination of week-end and holiday time-off and limiting of special details to 10 per cent of man hours. Week-end off-duty hours are now taken by up to 20 per cent of the force, and special details in 1939 numbered 540, including 334 escorts.

5. Increase in number of arrests by two to four times.

6. Adoption of a standard accident investigation and reporting procedure, with a doubling of the personnel in the bureau of accident prevention.

7. Purchase of camera equipment and "drunkometers" (apparatus for chemical intoxication tests) for each patrol car.

8. Inauguration of a warning tag system for first violators.

9. Establishment by legislature of a magistrate court system providing at least one such court in each county to try traffic cases.

10. Change of patrol age eligibility of 24 to 40 years to 21 to 28 years.

11. Complete revision of the training school curriculum, with fewer total hours and more emphasis on traffic problems.

HELD IN JAIL PENDING PROBE

Man Quizzed, Another In Hospital After Being Hit By Bottle.

Junius Miller, who gave his home as Dayton, was being held by police today pending the outcome of an investigation of a fight on North Adams street last night which sent another man to General hospital.

Miller was brought into municipal court this morning on an intoxication charge and fined $25 and costs, and will be held while a further investigation is made.

Miller and another transient, Frank B. Carner of Cumberland, Md., were both intoxicated, police said, when they got into a fight and Miller struck Carner in the face with a broken bottle, inflicting a deep wound four inches long on the side of his face.

DEFENDS O. P. S. DIVISION UNITS

Kennedy Says Mansfield and 8 Other Divisions Needed For Best Service.

The Ohio Public Service company must maintain Mansfield and eight other state divisions for satisfactory and economic operation, T. O. Kennedy of Cleveland, general manager of the utility, contended today.

Testifying before a securities and exchange commission examiner, Kennedy denied the assertion of SEC counsel that the company could operate more efficiently if there were fewer divisions.

The Clevelander appeared in connection with an investigation of the corporate structure of the Cities Service company. Ohio Public Service is a subsidiary of Cities Service, which seeks to show it is an integrated public utilities system within the meaning of the holding company act.

Kennedy asserted a reduction in the number of Ohio Public Service company's state divisions had been found inadvisable after careful consideration.

He noted separate divisions at Lorain and Elyria, both within Lorain county, saying an attempt to have only one division in the county was unsatisfactory because of customer density.

The company located its Ohio central office in Cleveland, where it had no service, to avoid influencing local managements in other parts of the state, Kennedy testified.

A vice president is in charge of each division and has authority to conduct dealing with the public in the division he serves, the general manager added.

Kennedy and R. E. Burger, vice president of Cities Service, said there were no joint employes of Ohio subsidiaries as far as payrolls were concerned.

ASHLAND—A cast of players of the Ashland Theater Guild will present the one-act play, "Everyman" at the Cain Park theater in Cleveland Friday evening, July 19, it was announced here by John P. Michael, director.

Members in the cast include James Strickling, Michael, Ronald Bendure, Mary Phillips, Margaret Forbes, Merle Patrick, Martha Starr, Robert Timmons, Helen Bendure, Donald Hettinger, Mary McDowell, Helen Zimmerman, Lary Conrad and Portia Garnes.

Circus Sets Up On Fairground Site Tomorrow

Everything that goes into the making of a big, three-ring circus, will be a part of the Cole Brothers tent show which gives two performances at the Fairground here tomorrow.

In fact, the line up of the Cole Brothers show, said to be the second largest circus in the world now traveling by rail and second only to Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey outfit, includes a big menagerie, a corps of clowns, flying aerialists and acrobats, trained animals, bareback riders, pretty girls, a wild west contingent and the circus band which is different from all other bands in the world.

Ken Maynard, movie star of Western films, heads the Wild West show with his famous horse, Tarzan. Stars of the bareback riders are the Loyal-Repenskis who have thrilled circus goers of Europe as well as America.

Cole Brothers carry five herds of elephants, including several baby pachyderms. One of the big female elephants serves as "mother" of the entire group, maintaining order and ruling with a firm but gentle trunk.

The menagerie includes lions, tigers, zebras, camels, dromedaries, 10 hippopotami and dozens of other wild animals.

The two performances will start at 2 and 8 p. m. and the doors of the big tent will be open one hour before the performances get under way, so that patrons may see the menagerie.

APPLIES DEFENSE PROGRAM TO HOME BUILDING IN TALK HERE

Recommending that work under the national defense program be distributed so as to avoid great population shifts, Newton C. Farr, president of the National Association of Real Estate boards, said in an address in Mansfield yesterday that "it should be possible for workers to continue to own their homes in the communities in which they are employed."

Farr, a Chicago real estate authority, spoke at a meeting of the Mansfield Real Estate board at the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

"Bpsiness activity means workers must be housed," Farr said, and to avoid the bottleneck in production caused by a housing shortage and dislocations of population, there should be a review of the housing situation now, before too rapid expansion is attempted in any particular section of the country."

He added that "any increase in business activity due to the preparedness program will be reflected in the absorption of industrial and warehouse space of which there is a surplus at this time."

Farr said the real estate business is in a position to avoid the "jitters" because of the non-liquid condition of real estate, making it virtually immune to rapid fluctuations in market values that are occurring in a number of investment fields.

"Well-selected real estate," he pointed out, "in the conditions we now face, is a good form of investment for capital and should continue to be during the ups and downs that may be ahead."

WEDDINGS SET

Two Shelby Girls Will Marry Late This Month.

SHELBY—Wedding bells will ring for two Shelby couples this month. The marriage of Miss Georgene Kuhn to Jame Miller of Indianapolis, Ind., and Miss Kathryn Reichhard to Henry Betts of near Shelby will take place Saturday, July 27.

Miss Kuhn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Dale Kuhn of 21 Boulevard, will exchange wedding vows with Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Miller of 52 South Gamble street, in a ceremony at 7:30 p. m. at First Lutheran church. Rev. D. Bruce Young, pastor of the church, will officiate.

The wedding of Miss Reichhard to Betts will take place at First Lutheran church at 3 p. m. Sunday, July 14. Rev. Young will read this single ring ceremony also.

Following the wedding service, a reception will be given for the bridal party at the bride's parents home, 29 Mansfield avenue. Later in the day they will leave for a motor trip.

Miss Reichhard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Reichhard, is a graduate of Shelby high school in 1935. She has been employed at Shelby Salesbook company. Betts is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herb Betts of near Shelby.

TOLD OF DEATH

ASHLAND—Word was received here of the death of Mrs. A. S. Miller, former resident of Ashland at St. Petersburg, Fla.

Mrs. Miller, who had made her home here since 1921, is survived by her husband; a daughter, Ione, and a son, Glen, and several grandchildren.

Funeral services have been held in Florida.

CYCLE DRIVER OUT OF HOSPITAL

GALION — Alva Sharrock, 24, of 124 West Parson street, who received bruises when his motorcycle was struck by an automobile driven by William W. Gerhart, Sunday afternoon, was dismissed from the Good Samaritan hospital Monday.

The collision occurred at the corner of Grove avenue and South Union street. Gerhart reported to police that Sharrock had turned south on Union street from Grove avenue and collided with the Gerhart car which was going north on Union street. Sharrock was thrown over the radiator hood.

REMOVED HOME

BUCYRUS—Frank Rodey, Marion resident who was accidently shot in an accident at Sugar Grove lake last week, was dismissed from City hospital Monday. Rodey's condition was considered serious after the bullet from a .22 calibre rifle was found lodged near the spine.

Officials are still investigating the accident which occurred as two young men were reported to have been shooting at snakes on the opposite side of the lake from where Rodey was fishing.

NO MORE PILLARS

CLEVELAND—(AP)—City council has sounded the death knell for 100 permanent safety stanchions which figured in numerous fatal traffic crashes.

SHELBY COUNCIL GIVES O. K. ON $72,290 TENTATIVE BUDGET

SHELBY—A tentative budget for operating municipal government during the fiscal year of 1941, approximately $3,000 more than was set up for 1940, was passed by city council Monday night at a special meeting.

The 1941 tentative budget calls for expenditures totaling $72,290. The budget for 1940 was set up at $69,000.

The tentative budget was approved by city council unanimously as read by Finance Director Chester Monn at the meeting. The budget has been drawn up by figures compiled by Director Monn from estimates made by the various department heads. The budget was approved by Mayor W. R. Morris before presentation was made to the council.

Increases in the tentative budget for 1941 as compared with the expenditures made and estimated for this year are due mostly, Monn pointed out, to a larger salary scale in the police department where Junior Patrolman William Ewall received a raise, in the health board fund where salaries have been adjusted and in the fire department allocation.

The police salary schedule in the budget is set up at $11,640 as compared with an expenditure of $10,500 this year. Total amount allotted to the police fund in the tentative budget is $14,000.

With raises anticipated for at least one junior fireman next year, the salaries set up for the fire department is $7,500. This year it is estimated that $6,385.50 will be spent. The total for this fund is $19,500. Included in this is $8,300 rental fees the city has to pay for use of fire hydrants from municipal water company.

Less money was set up in the relief fund for next year than was estimated to be used this year. The tentative budget sets up only $10,000 for poor relief purposes next year. This year it is estimated the city will spend $13,260. With private industry employing more men, city officials anticipate a drop next year in the number of relief clients on the city's rolls here.

The city park fund was set up in the budget the same as was used this year for personal services and other expenses. This totaled $3,750.

Other funds remained approximately the same as set up in the tentative budget compared with expenditures made and estimated will be made for 1940, Monn said. The tentative budget has been kept at "rock bottom" this year to keep the tax rate as low as possible in Shelby, Monn pointed out. No extras were added to the tentative budget.

TRAFFIC SQUAD CITES 2 MORE

Chalks up Fifth And Sixth Arrests In Two Days as Check Up Starts.

Two motorists, arrested yesterday by Mansfield's new traffic squad, appeared in municipal court this morning, making six city arrests on traffic violations in two days.

Four were brought into court yesterday and fined for various offenses. Traffic Officer C. W. Kyler, on the first shift, arrested Samuel Richard Kisling of Lexington, on two charges. He was charged with operating his motorcycle in an unsafe manner on South Mulberry street yesterday when he was driving 35 miles in a 20 mile zone, and with operating without a muffler. He was fined $10 and costs on the first charge and $1 and costs on the second.

The second shift traffic squad officer, Paul Martin, brought in Robert Horn, 19, of 71 North Willis avenue for careless and reckless driving. Martin arrested Horn when the latter backed out of the driveway of a cafe at 11:45 p. m. yesterday on Wayne street. Martin said Horn drove at a reckless speed and when he attempted to stop his car, skidded into the curb. He was assessed $10 and costs.

Police Chief Meade K. Bates said today that his new shift schedule for police would go into effect Thursday. The present 8 a. m. shift will go on duty at 7 and work until 3 p. m. and the second shift will also start an hour earlier, working from 3 to 11 p. m. The third shift starts at 11 p. m. and ends at 7 a. m.

FOUR HURT IN IOWA TWISTER

Homes And Business Places Heavily Damaged By Gale.

PORTSMOUTH—(U.P.)—A twister which followed a violent rain and hail storm early today demolished 20 business houses and 10 or 15 residences here.

Four persons, including Mayor Padger Monaghan, were injured, none seriously.

Every building in the business section with the exception of the bank, which lost only one window, was either completely demolished or seriously damaged, according to John Jipsen, manager of a grocery store.

BID FOR WILLKIE

Bricker Says G. O. P. Nominee Invited to Ohio Fair.

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Gov. John W. Bricker said today that Wendell Willkie, Republican presidential nominee, had been invited to speak on the Governor's day program at the State Fair Aug. 29.

At the same time, Governor Bricker said that a meeting of the Ohio GOP campaign committee, scheduled for today, had been postponed a week because of the incapacity of his secretary, Don Power, whose left leg was broken recently in a fall from a horse.

Power is a member of the committee.

MEET TONIGHT

Councilmen to Study Changes In City's Sewer System.

Members of city council will meet in caucus tonight at City hall to consider the ways and means of financing modernization of the city's sanitary and storm sewer systems.

Meeting with them will be Service-Safety Director C. M. Crafton, City Engineer W. C. Statler and City Auditor Paul Kelley and County Auditor Norman Wolfe.

They will consider the problem of Mansfield's sewer system from the survey made last year by the Brown consulting engineers of Marion and discuss possible means of financing needed changes.

A levy to finance the work was submitted to voters last November, but failed to pass.

SPIKES RUMORS

Norma Shearer Says She Won't Marry Raft or Anyone.

HOLLYWOOD —(INS)— Spiking rumors that she and George Raft are planning to be married, Norma Shearer, film star, and widow of Producer Irving Thalberg, declared today:

"I will not marry George or anyone else. I take marriage very seriously. I was ideally happy with Irving Thalberg. I never expect to find such happiness again, so it would be wrong for me to marry anyone."

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

MANSFIELD, OHIO, TUESDAY, JULY 9, 1940.

Then, too, it's surprising how many people like to take dictation.

Americans are pleased to learn that Hitler's government "finds the tone of the Latin-American press unsatisfactory."

Healthy Ideology

FOR SOMETHING fresh, wholesome and reassuring as to the future of our country we recommend this declaration of principles, made jointly by the Boys' Clubs of America, the Federal Council of Churches, the National Congress of Christians and Jews, the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A., the Order of Elks, the Workers' Educational Bureau, the National Society of Christian Endeavor, the Roosevelt Memorial association, the Catholic Youth Organization of New York, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the American Federation of Labor, the Camp Fire Girls and the Boy Scouts. Whew! Well, here it is:

"To be vigilant and courageous in maintaining human sympathy and respect for the rights of others;

"To beware of the enemies of democracy, whatever their passwords or places of birth, and wherever they may be found;

"To stand united with all lovers of freedom, whatever their tongue or origin;

"To keep our nation strong in valor and confident in freedom, so that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth."

John Is Himself Again

TAKING one consideration with another, as Gilbert and Sullivan would say, there's life in John Bull yet. The hesitancy that characterized the Chamberlain premiership seems to have disappeared. Winston Churchill and his fellow-belligerents have roused the tight little isle at last to a fighting pitch.

The way the British navy took its French dilemma by the horns last week, and grabbed the bulk of the French war fleet from under Hitler's outraged nose, was in the bold tradition of Drake and Nelson. And if stout Churchill broke down and wept in the House of Commons, over the stern necessity that drove his government to fight its recent allies, it merely showed the inner conflict in the heart of a strong man. Even Homer's heroes wept on occasion.

Mixed with all these confused and unprecedented events is great pity for fallen France in the hearts of civilized men everywhere. But in the present crisis, hearts temporarily turned weak cannot command the homage felt for hearts that remain stout in extremity. Fighting democracies must respect a government and nation that stands firm and fights a ruthless enemy with his own weapons. And in the end, France herself may agree that this was the best way.

Lethal—Perhaps—Ray

A 91-YEAR-OLD inventor in California says he has a death ray which has killed a bull at a distance of 2½ miles. It is an X-ray which is controlled by a mysterious substance he gets from Sweden. Normally, the inventor explains, X-rays move uncontrolled in all directions. His lethal ray is concentrated into a solid, projected beam. He plugs his device into an ordinary light socket, pushes the button, and presto—birds and small animals are easily killed by it.

One of the things that puzzles the unscientific mind about such rays is how they avoid killing every thing in their paths. How, for example, can the death ray kill a bull miles away without also killing other domestic animals, birds, or even people who happen to be in its line of travel?

Dr. Robert A. Millikan, physicist of the California Institute of Technology, is reported to have some doubts about the claims made for this particular death ray. A lot of people hope he is right. There are too many deadly devices in human hands today, as it is.

Better Radio for Children

TIME, says a philosophical mother, cures everything, if you wait long enough. A recent survey of children's radio tastes, made by the United Parents associations of New York City, suggests that time is taking care of those terrible gangster and horror dramas that have kept children's ears glued to the radio and parents' brows puckered with anxiety.

According to the survey, the gun-shooting and all the rest are still there on so-called children's programs, but the youngsters are tiring of them. Boys and girls increasingly regard them with disfavor and turn, of their own choice, to less blood-curdling entertainment.

The 60,000 children questioned ranged in age from kindergarten through the first year in high school. Many of them said they liked mystery and adventure broadcasts but not the most gruesome ones. Asked to make suggestions for programs they would like, they demanded a children's "Information Please," dramatizations of Bible stories, fairy tales and American history. They asked for news programs about children's activities and hobbies, travelogues about foreign countries, scientific and nature talks and more music and operettas.

How much of this attitude toward the radio has come as a natural reaction against programs of an exaggerated type and how much is the result of the work of schools and parents and museums and orchestras to interest children in better programs is hard to say. But the facts are reassuring.

What Next If Britain Falls?

AMERICANS lately, at least those with imagination and information, are considerably worried about England. It is the same sort of worry that they felt for the small western democracies taken over so quickly by Hitler, and for the appalling surrender of France. But this case is worse than the others, because American language and culture come mainly from England and there have been closer ties with the British Isles than with any other country.

Now obviously England is in the greatest peril of her long history. And if the English government and nation go down under the rain of Nazi bombs and the guns and wheels of Nazi tanks, the world will never be the same again, either for the remnants of the British empire, or for America.

It will be not only grief for Britain that is felt, but alarm for the new dangers that will beset America if that line of defense is crushed.

How many ships this or that cut leaves can't matter less than how many British ships remain afloat.

Japan keeps hammering away, but China isn't broken yet.

Man About Manhattan

—By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Mr. Nelson Doubleday, head of the publishing house of Doubleday, Doran & Co., will be very grateful if the Germans will forward him some word of two of his best-selling authors. The subjugation of the lowlands and of France has swallowed up P. G. Wodehouse and W. Somerset Maugham.

The company hasn't had a word from Wodehouse since early in May. At that time he wrote in to say that he had completed a new book of short stories and was beginning a new novel, as yet untitled. Shortly thereafter, while entertaining friends at tea in his home, Le Tourquet, a detachment of motorized Nazi infantry swept off the highway and into the Wodehouse yard, and the famous humorist, who once carried half a million dollars away from Hollywood for writing nothing at all, was made a prisoner. He still is in German hands.

* * *

WHATEVER his thoughts at the moment—and at his capture he suggested that "this might give me the material of a serious novel"—he would no doubt be pleased to know that a "free Wodehouse" campaign has sprung up in New York. Citizens are writing in and telephoning their plans to the Doubleday office. A mass meeting is now planned to be held at Madison Square Garden, and a request will be sent to the German government, petitioning the release of this famous creator of "Jeeves."

As for W. Somerset Maugham, he has disappeared into the maw of the Nazi machine. This is an embarrassing moment for the author to disappear. He has a new book of short stories, "The Mixture as Before," coming out next week. It is the last collection of short stories he ever intends to write, or so he has informed Mr. Doubleday. Why? There are only so many stories in a man, he explains. "No one, I believe, can create a character from pure observation; if it is to have life it must be at least in some degree a representative of himself. I do not believe Shakespeare could have begotten Hamlet, Brutus and Iago if he had not been himself Iago, Brutus, and Hamlet. . . . I have now written between eighty and ninety stories; I shall not write any more."

* * *

IT IS not surprising that Maugham was in Paris when the Germans came. He was educated in France, lived there as a man and as a child, and speaks the language fluently—but not too fluently. He once pointed out that he had no desire to speak French as a native. . . . "When you find an Englishman who speaks French flawlessly: he is probably a card shark."

His decision to write no more short stories isn't surprising. Not long ago he suggested that perhaps his days were numbered. He is now 60, and, says he, "reading the obituary columns of The Times tells me that a lot of people die between the ages of 55 and 60." So he sat down and wrote a book called "The Summing Up," which was an appraisal of his own sense of values—of the things that meant most to him. Writing such a summary, which, by his own admission, sort of tied up his career in a neat, serviceable little package, made him feel better. After all, he is the author of about 25 plays, ten novels, eight books of short stories, and three books of essays and six books on travel. That is quite a lot of work for one man to do.

Looking Back

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Friday, July 9, 1920.

Six college graduates from Japan, China and elsewhere in the Far East were employed in Mansfield factories, learning American industrial methods to teach their home folks.

Frank Wentz, 60, a native of Mansfield, died in Springfield.

Mrs. Howard Stoler returned to her home in Cleveland after a visit here.

St. Paul's Lutheran congregation voted to donate $500 to proposed new Lutheran hospital in Guntur, India.

Charles F. Endly, former resident, was here from San Diego, Cal., to visit his brothers.

Burton Preston was elected vice president of the Ohio State Golf association.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

Tuesday, July 9, 1935.

Dr. D. B. Faust, 130 West Third street, and Dr. S. C. Sneeringer, 36 Hoffman avenue, received certificates authorizing them to practice medicine in Ohio.

George W. McElroy, Ada, was transferred to Mansfield, as deskman and junior officer for state highway patrol.

Robert Schroer was chosen official delegate to the National Elks convention in Columbus July 18-19.

Announcement was made of the remodeling of the public library building.

Members of the Other-Y's and Beta Epsilon clubs held a picnic at North Lake park.

TODAY IN HISTORY

Today is the anniversary of the death in 1790 of Fitz-Greene Halleck, the American poet. His best known poem is the one on the death of his friend Joseph Rodman Drake beginning with "Green be the turf above thee."

ONLY A FEW MORE DAYS OF SUSPENSE

Willkie Boom Precedent Recalled

—By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—"Nothing ever happened like that before!" newsmen said of the nomination of Wendell L. Willkie.

But the remark brought a snort of disgust from one of our capital cabbies who has seen a convention or two himself. He saw McKinley nominated in 1900 and his grandpappy, who took him, filled him with stories of the 1860 convention where "Old Abe" Lincoln was nominated in so much the same fashion as Wendell L. Willkie that it isn't even funny.

* * *

Similar Situation.

WHEN the 1860 convention delegates assembled, a New York favorite son, William H. Seward, was so far ahead of the field that there was hardly any competition. Straw votes had given him a tremendous lead.

But when the delegates assembled, things began to happen. "Old Abe" the railsplitter had nothing but Illinois on his side to start with . . . but before things could really warm up, Pennsylvania, whose candidate was favorite-son Simon Cameron, and Indiana had been brought into line.

The night before the balloting, the Lincoln crowd gave their first hint of a blitzkrieg. One of their henchmen took the floor and made a speech that lasted until after midnight, eliminating the possibility of the Seward speeches that were scheduled.

That same night, Ward Hill Lamon went to the printers of convention hall tickets and all night long a corps of young men wrote the names of Lincoln bucks on the tickets.

The next day, rooters stomped the streets and shouted for "Old Abe" and "The Rail Splitter."

The Lincolnites took over the Wigwam, the huge old rough lumber barn where the convention was to be held, and when the Seward shouters arrived there were no seats.

* * *

Help From Galleries.

AS THE voting started, Lincoln had barely a hundred votes but every one that was cast for him brought such a din from the galleries that "a thousand steam whistles, ten acres of hotel gongs, a tribe of Comanches might have mingled in the scene unnoticed."

On the third ballot, Lincoln had gone from nothing to a near majority. What he needed, the Ohio delegation provided, and the nomination was won.

So short a time had he been in the race, so little was he known as a possibility, that when Seward's son, working for a newspaper in Albany, shouted up a tube to the printing room foreman that Lincoln had won the nomination, the foreman shouted back: "Say, what damn name was that you said was nominated for President?"

When it was all over Lincoln (and Willkie) pointed out that a dark horse has the advantage of having made no commitments and not owing anybody anything.

Of course, that wasn't exactly true for Lincoln, and it probably won't be for Wendell L. Willkie either . . . if he's elected. Politics aren't run like that . . . ever.

Listen, World!

"Streamlined Stenogs."

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

REMEMBER the "business girls" of 1900? Stenogs, particularly. Not many to remember, are there? 'Twasn't thought "proper" for a girl to "work in public" those days, least of all in offices where she "had to meet men." Nice people, generally, didn't associate with those who did.

It was different, of course, with Florabelle Adams. The Adams family had been looked up to in Our Town for three generations. Florabelle didn't go to work until they'd lost practically everything and she was nearing thirty. Even so it was a mighty hard step to take. Folks said she cried for days. But finally she took a job in old Lawyer Armstrong's office, making out his monthly bills, pecking out letters with one finger on his rattley typewriter, fussing around generally. And everyone, including Lawyer Armstrong, tried to be as kind to her as possible.

But, even so, she must have been quite a trial. She still cried easy and would get upset over the least little thing. Naturally she remembered she'd been born A Lady and couldn't be expected to act like Common Help. You could see how badly she felt by the way she dressed. Her hair was always coming down and her clothes looked scrambled. Her desk was messy, too; she'd spend hours rummaging, trying to find some particular papers.

Old Lawyer Armstrong would get mad enough to chew nails but there wasn't much he could do about it because she was so sensitive. If he said a word she'd, like as not, go home with a sick headache. And, even if he fired her, he couldn't get anyone better. That's the way Nice Women felt about Jobs these days.

Poor Florabelle! I thought about her as I talked recently to the graduating class of Grace Martin's Secretarial School in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. A great school, that—surprisingly different from other business outfits. As different as weepy, messy Florabelle had been from these clear-eyed young Americans who were accepting their diplomas so proudly. No apologies about these confident youngsters . . . no feeling that they had "stepped down in life." No fuzzy sense of inferiority. They'd been given a healthy conception of their own importance—and their obligation to those they served.

I remember, particularly a little skit entitled "What Is a Streamlined Secretary?" Nine girls took part in it, each contributed her angle on the question. How amazing those answers would have been to Florabelle, back in 1899! Florabelle, with her tears and tantrums and messy technique. Florabelle had felt she was "put upon"—as, to be frank, did most of the females of her time. But not these young moderns. Work, to them, is a privilege, not a Dirty Deal.

What should be the attributes of a Streamlined Stenog? "LOYALTY!" said they. The ability to keep confidences . . . to give credit where credit was due . . . to observe office discipline. ENTHUSIASM — an eagerness to work—a willingness to see the bright side of things. SOCIAL INTELLIGENCE—tact and discretion — adaptability and graciousness. POISE—the ability to be at ease in any situation—to make swift and wise decisions—to accept responsibility gallantly.

Emotional Control—that ideal alone would have made Florabelle and her generation gasp and sputter. Splendid women they were, those mothers and grandmothers of the class of 1890. Hard-working, self-sacrificing, devoted, utterly loyal. But things had come to a pretty pass if a lady couldn't have A Good Hard Cry . . . or go around in her curl papers through the morning . . . or get insulted if people tried to push her around. Maybe women couldn't vote—but they certainly Had Their Rights and being a Florabelle Adams was one of them.

And now winsome little Whiffets are streamlining their femininity . . . cutting out the swoons and smelling salts . . . accepting and advocating the same rules for good sportsmanship as men! Times certainly do change. Whoops, my dearie—isn't it a treat!

A Boy Problem

(A FARMER'S DIARY)

—By CALVIN A. BYERS

I SOLD some produce to a wealthy home. Peas, beans and beets I had—the first fruits of the garden. I was proud for all they represented. I rapped at the kitchen door, but got no reply. A boy who was mowing the lawn told me to rap again and someone would come.

A middle-aged woman in maid's uniform answered and I showed her my basket.

"Ach, they look fresh — they make me hungry," she said, smiling. "The lady of the house isn't at home—but she told me to get lunch," and she took the basket I handed her.

"Your mistress is away a good deal?" I asked.

"She has so many social dates—club parties and week-end vacations — that she's seldom home this time of year, even to sleep," said the woman. "The master is a busy man, too. He often stays in at his club all night. He hasn't got home before 12 for nearly a month; only two nights when he wasn't feeling well and then he stayed in bed and phoned and phoned."

"Have they no children?"

"One boy—he's still in bed." (It was ten o'clock.) "He had one too many cocktails last night and nigh got arrested for careless driving. He's a good boy, but he's got nothin' to do, and he's too young to find a job."

"His Dad might let him take care of the lawn, and even pay him for doing it," said I. She shook her head.

"He said to me the other day that he was better acquainted with the hired man across the street than he was with his own Dad," she said. "He wants to do something big and worth while and Jud, the hired man, don't have any ambition, and can't sympathize with him. I'm sorry for the kid. He hasn't seen his father or mother for a week, and then they were in a hurry to go away. It's really true the boy knows the choreboy, the caretaker across the street, the waitresses and the bell hops better'n he knows his Dad and Mother. They're going to send him to a military school next fall — a swanky place, out on the coast. It looks to him as though they don't want him at home, and the farther they can ship him away the better."

"It's a wise father that knows his own son," I mused as I took my empty basket and went on.

WASHINGTON Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—More alert minds in the Roosevelt administration have been doing some very careful thinking about what is going to happen to American trade in the future. The picture is far from optimistic. Here are some of the things they have concluded:

After this war is over it is almost inevitable that the world will be divided into four great trading areas. They will be:

1. Japan and China, comprising about 450,000,000 people and falling under the totalitarian domination of Japan.

2. Germany, which will exercise life and death rule over about 400,000,000 people, including all the nations of Europe.

3. Russia, which will govern the trade of about 200,000,000 people.

4. The United States, Canada, and South America—if we can still keep the latter under the Monroe Doctrine. These will represent about 350,000,000 people.

In the first three of these economic areas, foreign trade will be completely controlled by government monopolies. For instance, Germany operating on a slave-wage scale and a socialized system, will be able to cut prices and undersell the United States throughout South America. Already Germany is offering steel in Rio de Janeiro and Buenos Aires for September delivery far under prices quoted by U. S. steel mills.

Japan, which is sure to industrialize China, also will pay slave wages, and will do the same.

* * *

U. S. Alternatives.

THEREFORE the United States, in order to continue any kind of export trade whatsoever, will have to do one of four things:

1. Reduce wages to a level approximating the starvation standards paid in Germany.

2. Reduce profits, or eliminate them altogether, if German prices are to be met.

3. Subsidize industry and virtually take it over, as under the Nazi, Fascist, and Soviet systems.

4. Create a foreign trade monopoly. This is what the Russians have done for more than a decade, and what the Nazis have been doing more recently. All exports abroad are sold through the government and imports are purchased the same way.

It is this last system which New Deal advisers consider least objectionable of the four, and upon which they are concentrating.

Naturally, the handling of U. S. exports and imports through a government monopoly is a long, long way from the Hull trade treaties, which are based upon most-favored-nation treatment, low tariff walls, and the principle that every nation should treat the other as it wants to be treated.

This highly laudatory principle, now so out-dated by Hitler, has been one of the chief bones of contention inside the New Deal. Secretary of Agriculture Wallace has fought it from time to time, and once got into a row with Hull over the insignificant question of placing a quota on French walnut sales.

* * *

Hull's Rows.

PROFESSOR MOLEY, when Assistant Secretary of State, had terrific rows with his chief over export-import trade quotas and the right to barter. Even in 1933 Moley thought Hull's trade treaties were old-fashioned.

Later George Peek, head of the Export-Import Bank, took up the cudgels with Hull and fought for government quotas which would fix the amount of goods to be imported from certain countries.

In each battle the veteran Secretary of State won. The fight with Moley resulted in his resignation. Peek hung on for months, but finally was purged.

Now, however, New Deal master minds have come around to exactly the same theories proposed by Moley and Peek—except that they go even further. They maintain in this day and age, with the full weight of the German government bartering for trade, a single U. S. business man has about as much chance as a single workman bargaining with an employer. He must also have the weight of his government behind him.

Meanwhile, the State department still has to pay lip service to the Hull treaties. Speaking recently at the Virginia Institute of Public Affairs, Assistant Secretary of State Berle praised the Hull treaties, though he knew they were as out of date as horse cavalry in this age of tanks and airplanes.

* * *

National Defense Commission.

THE members of the National Defense commission are a genuine cross-section of the American "melting pot."

Two of them, Knudsen and Hillman, are of immigrant origin. One, Stettinius, is the son of a J. P. Morgan partner. Another, Chester Davis, was born on a farm and has devoted his career to agriculture. Another member, Miss Elliott, is a professional woman and a champion of consumer interests. Another, Ralph Budd, is a railroad man who worked his way up from the bottom, and sitting next to him is a former college professor and economist, Leon Henderson.

Thrown together suddenly to execute a stupendous job, it was widely predicted that there would be friction and trouble within the group.

The commission has been functioning for nearly two months, and as far as these observers can ascertain, there isn't an agency in Washington which operates more harmoniously and smoothly. William Knudsen, the quiet-spoken motor manufacturer, gets along with Sidney Hillman, slender, dark-haired CIO leader, as amicably and easily as with an old friend.

Knudsen was telling a former business associate about this the other day.

"What about the president?" asked the friend. "How do you get along with him?"

"No trouble," said Knudsen, "everything is fine. Why, he calls me 'Bill'."

* * *

Phoney G-Men.

IF YOU are an employer and get a call from an FBI agent, it is a good idea to make him show you his credentials. All genuine G-men are under orders to do that and for a very good reason.

In the past week the Justice Department has received complaints from employers that fake FBI agents have demanded the dismissal of workers who they claim were "un-American" and "radicals."

One large Pittsburgh steel company reported that one of these alleged G-men submitted a list of 120 employes who, he advised, should be fired at once. A check disclosed that none of the men were Communists or belonged to left-wing organizations. But they were active union members and belonged to the CIO.

Impersonating a federal officer is a serious offense and J. Edgar Hoover has assigned some of his crack men to investigate these fakes. At no time does Hoover ever recommend the hiring or firing of any employe.

CHAPTER XXII

"I don't even have any water," she went on. "The silly pump has been acting up and there wasn't a bit on tap. Whatever are we to do? And it—she—it may not be long now, Pola says!"

"Yes. Yes indeed, Rosemary! We must—ah, do something. Now let me see—my memory tells me that—well, it is unquestionably a normal situation, I should say. That is—well, I mean to say, not only are babies quite normal and desirable phenomena, but among the most primitive people, as we surely must classify the Indians, these matters are likely to be quite routine, as it were."

"Oh, Monty!" Rosemary was impressed, but confused too.

"Um. My acquaintance with primitive folk tells me that perhaps Pola is not in such dire straits as we might fear. She—ah, has mothered other children, as we know, so that the arrival of this one should entail no undue—ah, difficulty."

"But Monty, you are so calm, and I am as jittery as a silly little kid myself!" It would take two hours or more to go back to Flagstaff for a doctor, and anyway Pola said she would not let a white doctor come into her room. Oh, just wait till I get my hands on that Walpi!"

Monty smiled again. "I must say I feel for the poor fellow. Meantime, of course, we must face the emergency ourselves, as required. Now of course sanitation is a primary requisite. I will—ah, go to cut some kindling and wood, and so build a fire in the kitchen stove. Meantime you must arrange for a pot of water, my dear! Let us move rapidly!"

* * *

As if somewhat proud of being a man of decision and action, Monty turned instantly and strode back outside the store, heading directly for an axe that rested against the rear woodpile. Rosemary watched him with some concern, then turned back inside.

Fire and hot water. Of course. But no—there was no water! The pump that sent fresh water from the lake, put it through a filter and kept it on tap in her trading post and its rooms, was completely dead. At any rate no water came, she had repeatedly determined. Still, Monty had said we must heat water, forgetting what she had said.

"Absolutely the only water I have is ice, in the refrigerator," she told herself, standing there.

She hastened to the big electric box and took out all the ice cubes. Together they would melt down to perhaps a gallon, she realized. That wouldn't be nearly enough.

All at once, then, her attention centered on shelves stacked with bottled cold drinks. Red and yellow—strawberries and lemons — Purple—that would be grape flavor. Green for lime. Orange.

"Oh Lordy!" Rosemary almost groaned it, half in amusement, but with sudden determination as well.

She grabbed a red one and popped off its cap with the little gadget bolted to the refrigerator frame. Shwi-i-i--issssh, burble — burble, its appetizing liveliness and flavor poured into an open pan.

She took more red ones down. One whole shelf was devoted to the strawberry reds because Indian customers preferred them and a lot of her trade came from Indians.

"Well, he's to be a redskin baby anyway, so why not?" Rosemary murmered in high amusement, popping bottles and pouring them rapidly with both hands.

Before Monty had the fire built (it was no easy task for him) she had a large pan of "water" on the stove. He did not notice that it was sizzly colored water, nor did she bother then to tell him. A customer had stopped his car out front and entered the store, and Pola was calling

"Oh Lordy, Monty—listen, you run tend store, there's a dear, and I'll poke kindling under the fire. I—I think we've got to hurry. If you happen to see Walpi—"

"But my dear, if the Indian woman is in dire need, I am anxious to be near to do whatever I can to aid you! The customer can wait in this emer——"

"Phooey!" Rosemary snapped, good-naturedly. "I'm scared to death, Monty, but I'm all right now that you are actually here. I mean, I'm not scared any more, or—I mean I think I can figure out what to do alone. I—this is woman's business! It's a phrase I read somewhere in a book. It's probably true, Monty. You keep things smooth out front, like a pal. You'd be in the way!"

* * *

Monty swallowed. He didn't understand it all, but he obeyed her. She had begged frantically for counsel and help, then in five minutes had calmly assumed charge herself and ordered him out of the way. He realized that she would have to blunder through on sheer common sense and intuition, but he also realized that it would be best so.

The customer wanted a set of six waterproofed bed rolls for cowboys, a dozen packages of smoking tobacco, and a new pair of denim pants. The sale came to more than $30, which the man—a gruff rancher—paid in cash. Monty was impressed. A sale with more than $12 profit before 7:30 in the morning. Twelve dollars a day for 30 days is $360 profit a month. And of course the day was just beginning. Why—why this store, properly managed, could clear up to a thousand dollars a month! With the new gasoline pump, tires and other car needs, the new sleeping cabins he had planned for her, Rosemary could be making more money by far than she would ever make as a law firm secretary, or indeed more than he could ever hope for as a professor.

"And I am right here in the field for archaeology study, with prehistoric ruins and mounds all around us," he was musing. "I have some money saved, if I invested . . . bulk purchases on the nonperishable commodities . . . careful survey of real needs . . . contact the lumbermen and ranchers . . . systematize things and put Walpi somewhere else . . . build a home under the oaks, on Lookout Point . . . happiness without the rush and worry . . ."

Monty's really excellent business mind did a lot of musing and planning there this morning. For more than two hours he alone tended store. A lot of the trade was petty, but he made a careful study of every customer and every item and every other detail.

It was almost ten o'clock when Rosemary announced that Pola was happily nursing her latest baby and that all was well.

"It wasn't so bad, Monty," she said, a deep new earnestness showing on her countenance. "Really it wasn't. Pola just needed—friendship. She told me everything to do herself. You were right about primitive women being — self-sufficient."

Monty took her hand and squeezed it in genuine feeling, silently complimenting her, nodding and looking down earnestly at her.

"You are a most extraordinary girl, Rosemary! You really are. Now I have sent a boy to the Indian village, and he will bring women to aid Pola. You go to bed at once and get some rest, won't you? You are—why you are wonderful.

* * *

She nodded and went upstairs. Her experience with Pola had indeed been overwhelming. It was, somehow, a sacred, exalting thing, a service which frightened her but which—as she went through it with determination and reasonable skill—left her with an odd sense of grandeur. It was as if she suddenly left giddy girlhood and reached a fine maturity: or as if she herself had triumphed in some vicarious suffering.

Sue McKee came, heard the news, and went away after a little while. Monty kept store until after noon and then Walpi Tom was back on the job (grinning broadly!). Then Monty told Rosemary he would return on Monday, and drove back to town. Rosemary read some in a book and retired early that night. The sleep was the soundest, most refreshing in her memory.

After breakfast next morning, which was Monday, she felt exceedingly good. Sunday's triumph over one of life's crises left her glowing inwardly still. Overnight, it now seemed, she had come to love this place. This quaint trading post. This wild forest around her. These people whom she had met here.

She was sitting on a log railing of her front porch, shapely legs dangling and swinging like a little girl's, when the R. F. D. postman drove up.

"Letter and some papers, ma'am," he said, respectfully.

The letter was postmarked New York, N. Y. She opened it with an unreasoning but definite apprehension, and read it rapidly.

"Oh!" she suddenly exclaimed at the mail carrier. "It's about my brother, Jack! He has — o-o-oh!"

Monty Montgomery left the Summit Trading Post on this Sunday because he felt that Rosemary really should rest. Anyhow, circumstances in the form of a new papoose had thwarted him in his plan to start making love today.

He drove his car back toward Flagstaff, noting the vast difference in the feel of the air from that of the early morning when he drove out. Then dew had dampened the earth, but now there was a crinkly dryness in everything. Every few miles he observed a neat roadside sign:

PLEASE BE CAREFUL OF FOREST FIRES

Other similar signs appealed to patriotism and pride in an effort to keep tourists and campers from carelessness. Mr. McKee had said that one thoughtlessly tossed match—flame out but stick still glowing—was known to have cost more than $6,000,000 and five human lives in one fire. It was necessary, during these summer months, to keep the sharpest lookout possible. Men were in their mountain towers night and day and would be until fall rains and snows came. Other rangers patrolled the danger zone, keeping fire fighters and equipment organized.

But Monty's mind this afternoon was on Rosemary, as he kept thinking of her through the evening hours. Among other things, he discovered that in the excitement at the trading post he had completely forgotten the five-pound box of candy! In Flagstaff he found it still on the back seat of his car.

"I shall take it back early tomorrow," he promised himself, leaving it there. "I am as absent-minded as—as a, ah, professor!"

He laughed at himself, and when a man can laugh at himself there is hope for him. Monty slept well and was ready to return to the post Monday at 9 o'clock. Before 10 he honked again at her front porch. Walpi, not Rosemary, came to the door.

THEATERS

D. Niven In "Raffles."

David Niven plays the title role and Olivia de Havilland provides the romantic interest in the new show, "Raffles" which is showing at the Ohio Wednesday and Thursday. This is a fast-moving mystery melodrama about the famous Amateur Cracksman, a society "smoothie" who leads a secret life of crime. The story opens in London with the hero continuing to baffle Scotland Yards with his spectacular robberies.

* * *

Prehistoric Days.

Latest prehistoric film "One Million B. C." which opens at the Madison Wednesday, stars Carole Landis and Lon Chaney, jr. It tells the simple story of two prehistoric tribes—the Shell people and the Rock Tribe who live in fear of the huge dinosauers and other large dangers. The co-feature is "Over the Moon" with Merle Oberon starring in the technicolor comedy hit.

* * *

Heavy Drama. Light Comedy.

The stirringly human drama "The Grapes of Wrath," written by John Steinbeck, opens Wednesday at the Ritz for a two-day run. Henry Fonda, Dorris Bowdon, Jane Darwell and Russell Simpson are the leading members of the cast. The co-feature is in a lighter vein, with Constance Moore and Tom Brown presenting "Ma! He's Making Eyes at Me." This is a gay romantic drama with dancing, music and lovely clothes.

* * *

Dix and Morris. Aviators.

Reunited for the first time since they played in "Sky Giant," Richard Dix and Chester Morris are again cast as aviators in "The Marines Fly High" which is a drama laid in a Central American country. The picture is showing at the Park with Dix and Morris as lieutenants in the U. S. Marine corps who rout native trouble-makers. "Women in War" is the co-feature.

SOCIETY & CLUBS

MISS MARJORIE GALE TO WED IN AUGUST

Mother, Sisters-In-Law of Bride-Elect Reveal Coming Marriage to Robert Hassinger at Informal Party.

AUGUST 2 is the date chosen by Miss Marjorie Gale for her marriage to Robert Hassinger which will be solemnized at the First Christian church with an informal service at 7:30 p. m. Announcement of the coming nuptials was made last night by Mrs. E. L. Gale, mother of the bride-elect, and her two sisters-in-law, Mrs. Raymond Gale and Mrs. Roy Gale. The party was given at the family home, 310 West Fourth street.

Twelve guests were present for the informal affair at which games and contests were played. Prizes were won by Mrs. Paul Davis and the Misses Jane and Virginia Derr.

Later in the evening the guests learned of the engagement and approaching marriage when they burst inflated balloons. Guests were seated at small tables, and each place was marked with tiny booklets giving the date and place of the marriage. Pastel flowers were used for the decorations.

An electrical gift was presented to the honoree by the hostesses.

Miss Gale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Gale, and Mr. Hassinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hassinger, 482 Davey avenue, will have as their attendants Mrs. Ralph Lang, Zanesville, sister of the bride, and Max Stichler. Rev. B. F. Hagelbarger will officiate.

St. Paul Church Groups Arrange Varied Programs

A variety of activities and interests will occupy members of the congregation and friends of the St. Paul Lutheran church this week. Tomorrow evening the teachers, officers and members of the picnic committee will meet at the church at 7:30 p. m. to make plans for the annual church picnic which will be an event of July 17. The same afternoon at 4:30 p. m. the Lutherantes will go to Seltzer park at Shelby for a swimming party and picnic.

Arrangements are in charge of Anna Marie Fisher, Jack Spicer and Richard Jacobs. Thursday afternoon the Ladies' Aid will meet at the church with Mrs. William Bolley as hostess, and Mrs. Henry Fischer as program chairman, while that evening there will be a session of the Mary Markley society with Miss Marie Loesch, 9 Hammond avenue. Mrs. H. L. Gilber will give the topic.

Instead of the regular meeting of the St. Paul guild tonight the group is planning to hold its annual outing and family picnic on July 14. The place has not yet been announced.

Elect Officers, Have Program at Reunion

There were 51 present Sunday at the annual Deems family reunion held at Winsky's grove. Following the noon picnic dinner, Walter Knapp, president, conducted the business meeting. Mr. Knapp was re-elected president, D. B. Wolfgang was named vice president, and Mrs. Lester Winskey is secretary-treasurer.

A program of music, readings and dances was presented by Marlene Knapp, June Gerhart, Lewis Birmelin, Dorothy Smith Lee Smith, jr., Phyllis Gerhart, Maizie Birmelin, Mrs. Luthera Knapp, Elaine Howard, Myrtle June Prosser, Walter and Marvin Knapp, Mrs. William Birmelin, Mrs. Earl Deems, Mrs. D. B Wolfgang and Mrs. Winskey. Another reunion will be held the second Sunday in July, 1941, at the same place.

Sorority Fetes Member at Session

Members of the Zeta Rho chapter of Delta Theta Tau agreed to send Mrs. Tolbert E. Smith to the national sorority convention which is being held from Wednesday through Sunday of this week in Columbus. The meeting at which this decision was made was held last night with Miss Doris Betz, 75 Atcheson avenue.

During the brief session Miss Martha Beusser was elected secretary to replace Mrs. James Ford who is leaving soon with her husband to make her home in Coshocton. Bridge was played during the evening, and gingham appointments were used.

Mrs. Ford and Miss Betty Tharp were the winners. Mrs. Bernard Mahoney, the former Miss Maxine Coffman, was feted by the sorority, and presented with a gift bearing the club crest.

* * *

SURPRISE PARTY.

Mrs. John Weaver, Andover road, was surprised by her children yesterday evening with an informal party honoring her birthday. The guest of honor was presented with a number of gifts, after which light refreshments were served.

South American Influence In Hats

South American influence is strong in Lilly Dache's collection of new hats. The wide-brimmed Gaucho hat with the generous drape about the chin is in "chica," a color named for Indian corn in South America. The Peruvian tambourine, center, is anchored to a tiny knitted skull cap. Close to the head again is the striped hood of Peruvian wool.

Florence Welty Unit Picnics at Park

Members of the Florence Welty society of the First Lutheran church had a picnic yesterday with Mrs. William Martin, Mrs. James Martin and Miss Mary Smith in charge. There were 19 members and one guest, Miss Martha Dye, present at the session which was held at Middle park.

"Women In Japan" was the topic Miss Smith chose for her discussion. Mrs. George Klippel, jr., was welcomed into membership. The Misses Marie Hoover and Reba Robinson were named to attend the summer school at Lakeside on July 22. The next regular meeting, for which no details were announced, will be held Aug. 12.

WIN CONTESTS.

A covered-dish dinner was served to members of the Penquin club at North Lake park yesterday when 14 gathered. Contests were the diversion with prizes going to the Misses Eleanor Metcalf and Norma Farschler. Mrs. Grace Thompson, Rae avenue, will entertain Aug. 5.

* * *

PLAY BRIDGE.

Bridge was in play at two tables yesterday when Mrs. Arthur Coleman, Ashland, entertained the Charter Bridgers. Prizes were won by Mrs. Howard Hyatt, Mrs. Gerald Dudley and Mrs. Russell Remy. The next meeting will be held July 22 with Mrs. Harold Treace, Ashland.

LEAVE ON TRIP

ASHLAND—Forty Ashland college students left Monday for the annual summer geology trip to Lake Erie, where they will visit the Ohio State biological laboratory at Put-In-Bay.

Dr. E. E. Jacobs, president emeritus of the college, was in charge of the students.

PLAN FOR SHOW

ASHLAND—Plans are under way here to stage the annual hobby show during the presentation of the "Cen-Quar" on the week end of July 28-31.

The show, an annual event here, is sponsored by the Ashland Rotary officials, and attracts hundreds of hobby exhibits from points all over the county.

SOCIAL PLANNED

SHILOH—Members of the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church of Shiloh will hold an ice cream social on the lawn of the Firestone home, on Tuesday, July 16, at 7 p. m.

DRIVER FINED

ASHLAND—Charged with passing another automobile on the wrong side of the road, William D. Park of Minneapolis was fined $2.50 and costs here by Justice of the Peace J. H. Armstrong.

Personals

Mr and Mrs. L. R. Coulson and son Robert, Chicago, Ill., have just returned to their home after visiting his sisters, Mrs. Joe Tipper, 484 Springmill street, and Mrs. Clyde Woolard, 331 Harker street.

* * *

Mrs. Harry Balliet, 211 South Adams street, and her son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Allen Balliet, Loudonville, left yesterday for an extended trip through the New England states and Canada. They will visit Mrs. Balliet's sister, Mrs. Ralph Bowers former Mansfielder, in Maine.

MORE AT CAMP

LOUDONVILLE — Twenty-three new men have been assigned to Camp Mohican, near here, by the CCC, and 32 more will arrive during the week.

There will be, at the end of the week, a total of 170 men at the camp. The new arrivals are all Ohio war veterans.

ORDER INSTALLS

GALION—Eugene Wilcox was installed as councilor along with other newly elected officers at a meeting of the Junior Order United American Mechanics, held Monday evening.

Installation was in charge of James Lindley, past councilor. Social hours and lunch followed a short business session.

75 REGISTER

ASHLAND—Seventy five have registered here for defense training program study, to be held at the Ashland high school, with 15 of the men starting actual training.

Classes for the men will be held daily from 8 to 12 and from 1 until 3 until the class is finished, after which another group will start, probably sometime in September.

Formal Ceremony To Be Read At St. Luke's Church

Invitations will be mailed within a few days for the formal wedding ceremony to be held Aug. 10 for Miss Louise V. Wolfe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Wolfe, 251 Marion avenue, and Edward Harry Reaser, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Reaser, Highland avenue, Ashland. The nuptial event will be solemnized at the St. Luke's Lutheran church at 7:30 p. m. with Rev. H. S. Garnes officiating.

Following the wedding a reception will be held at the Women's Club.

Miss Wolfe has chosen for her bridal attendants, Miss Carolyn Wolf, maid of honor; Mrs. Deming Lowrey and Miss Mariann Stander, bridesmaids. Harry Gill of Ashland will be Mr. Reaser's best man. Ushers and groomsmen are Dr. Charles Brown, jr., of Mansfield, Arthur Vanosdale, James L Brindle, Robert O. Bank, John C. Myers, jr., and Everett M. Myers, all of Ashland.

Miss Wolfe was graduated from Mansfield high school and Denison University at Granville, where she was a member of the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority. Mr. Reaser, a graduate of Ashland college, attended Miami University at Oxford, and was graduated from the Central Academy of Commercial Art at Cincinnati. He is now assistant manager of the advertising department of the F. E. Myers company, Ashland.

This evening members of the department at the Lumbermen's Mutual Insurance company, where Miss Wolfe is employed, will entertain with a picnic supper in her honor at South park.

Miss Dorothy Applan Chooses August Date

Announcement was made this morning of the aproaching marriage of Miss Dorothy Applan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Applan, 523 South Diamond street, to Charles H. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Miller, Pittsburgh, Pa. The couple will wed Aug. 11 at 1 p. m. at the First Presbyterian church at Huron.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Mansfield Senior high school, and is employed at the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company. Mr. Miller is with Brad Hunt's orchestra which is now playing a summer engagement at Ruggles Beach. The couple announced that their attendants will be Miss Ethel Heuss and Ellsworth Turnbull.

TO ENTERTAIN.

Mrs. Weldon Close will entertain the Priscillian club with a 1 o'clock luncheon Friday at the Women's Club.

MITCHELL TENT HAS ANNIVERSARY PARTY

Daughters of Union Veterans Entertain In Celebration of 25th Birthday; R. B. Gardner, C. M. Crafton Speakers.

ONE of the most impressive affairs to take place in Mansfield patriotic circles in some time was the silver anniversary celebration of the Mary B. Mitchell Tent No. 40, Daughters of Union Veterans, which was held last evening in the Memorial building. Preceding the impressive ceremonies and addresses by prominent citizens, the Three Majorettes provided accordion music.

Mrs. Henrietta Sherman, tent president, opened the program, and the officers marched into the assembly room conducting the officers from other tents, department and national officers, and guests of honor to the president's chair. Following the patriotic opening, Mrs. Sherman gave the address of welcome.

She was followed by R. B. Gardner, state commander of the American Legion, guest speaker. Next Service-Safety Director C. M. Crafton brought the congratulations of the city officials and Mrs. Bertha Mae Droz, national president, spoke, and introduced each department officer.

Miss Harriett Beck, charter member, gave a history of the tent after which Mary Jane Bellore sang. The department officers present were Mrs. Beatrice Vogel, president, who also spoke to the group; Mrs. Beyrl Overly, secretary, Mrs. Sadie Dallas, patriotic instructor, Mrs. Clara Yengling, mother of the Mary B. Mitchell Tent; Clark Yengling, past national commander of the Sons of Union Veterans; Miss Winne Gilchrist, president of Tent No. 6 of Cleveland, Mrs. Jane Neff, department junior vice president from the Women's Relief corps, and Mrs. Hazel Brannon, department vice president from the Auxiliary No. 100, Sons of Union Veterans.

Greetings were brought from the Sons of the American Revolution by John Shook, the American Legion by Mr. Gardner, the Women's Relief corps by Mrs. Helen Edmonstone, president; the Spanish War Veterans auxiliary by Mrs. Mary Johnson, the Legion auxiliary by Mrs. E. C. Flory, the Sons of Union Veterans by Floyd Bowden, Auxiliary No 4 by Mrs. Sarah Case and the Daughters of America by Mrs. Elsie Kreisher.

The past presidents of the tent gave the responses. At the close of the program corsages were given to the guests, past presidents and the three charter members present, Miss Beck, Mrs. Eva Ecker and Mrs. Ada Palmer. In conclusion Mrs. Eunice Cleland, general chairman, gave a tribute to the deceased members assisted by Mrs. Ella McHugh. The final musical selection was a clarinet solo by Mrs. Cleo Bartley accompanied by Doris Clark.

Refreshments were served from a long table attractively decorated with an arrangement of pink roses and pink and blue bachelor buttons in white vases. The entire room, especially surrounding the president's chair, was a massed bower of garden flowers in shades of pink, blue, red and white and palms arranged in silver containers.

Assisting Mrs. Cleland last night were Mrs. Della Cochran, Mrs. Alice Oster, Mrs. Mary Johnson, Mrs. Sherman, Mrs. McHugh, Mrs. Jane Taylor, Mrs. Alice Hunter, Miss Maud Swearingen, Mrs. Alice Garrett and all the past presidents. All the officers and committee members were attired in white and pastel shaded formal gowns.

The local tent was organized in 1915 with the Wooster tent conducting the ritual. Since that time there have been 22 presidents including the present incumbent of which there are still 18 living. Guests from Shelby, Wooster and Ashland tents were among those present.

PLAN PICNIC.

Members of the Buena Vista club will have a noon picnic at the Roadside park on route 30 Thursday, it was announced today.

Name New Officers At Evening Meet of St. Luke's Group

Officers of the Women's Missionary society at St. Luke's Lutheran church were elected last night at the regular meeting in the church parlors. Miss Sarah Krumm took over the duties of the president. She will be assisted by Mrs. A. O. Fonkalsrud, vice president; Miss Bertha Harshman, recording secretary, Miss Clara Miller, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Ida Krumm, treasurer, and Mrs. C. C DeWitt, pianist.

Mrs. Philip Wolfe and Miss Helen Moffat were the hostesses yesterday, and the devotions were led by Mrs. Ernest Schafer after which Mrs. H. S. Garnes gave the lesson on the topic "What Christianity Has Done For the Women of Japan." Mrs. Rufus Esselburn gave a review of the missionary bulletin.

The next meeting will be held in the parlors Aug. 12 with Mrs. Irene Hines and Miss Miller as hostesses. Mrs. Krumm will lead the devotions, and Miss Helen Wolfe will have the lesson.

Name Delegates For Toledo Convention

Both delegates and alternates to the state convention of the American Legion auxiliary were named last night at the regular meeting of the Mansfield unit which was held at the Legion home. Mrs. Robert Jones, president, Mrs. Samuel Harkins, Mrs. Vern Castor and Mrs. Ralph Schad, sr., will serve as delegates.

The alternates to the affair, which will be held Aug. 25, 26 and 27 at the Commodore Perry hotel at Toledo, are Mrs. P. C. Maxwell, Mrs. Guy North, Mrs. Hollie Moorhead and Mrs. Howard Neuman. Mrs. Karl Kahl, child welfare chairman, reported the giving of milk to three veterans' families, and shoes to two. Plans were made to hold a picnic July 22 at North Lake park with Mrs. Winfield Bonnell as hostess.

* * *

GUILD PICNIC.

Eighteen members and three guests of the Rachel France guild of the First Presbyterian church met at South Park Monday evening for a picnic supper. All were seated at one long table which was attractively decorated with a large centerpiece of garden flowers. Mrs. Herbert Carter was chairman of arrangements. The group will not meet again until Sept. 9 at which time Mrs. Mabel Alverson will be hostess at her home, 100 Rowland avenue. Assisting her will be Mrs. Mary Carter and Mrs. Jeannette Eichin.

* * *

FETED.

Leonard Frost, South Main street, was feted Saturday evening with a surprise covered-dish dinner in honor of his birthday. The affair was attended by a group of 25 friends.

* * *

CIRCLE TO MEET.

Mrs. Irl L. Fisher, Park avenue west road, will entertain members of Circle One of the First Presbyterian church Thursday at her home. She will be assisted by Mrs. Edward Channell and Mrs. Lyman Reuwee. Mrs. Charles Chew will speak on her recent trip through Mexico.

Mid-Summer Headgear Flatters Wearer

Top left, striped chiffon turban; right, rough straw saucer style hat; below, left, royal blue felt hat; right, golden brown Milan chapeau.

By SUSAN BARDEN
International Illustrated News Writer

Midsummer millinery is particularly flattering this season. And you have a wide choice in styles, shapes and materials so it will be no trick at all to find something that will be suitable for any occasion and becoming into the bargain.

Despite the definite trend toward uncovered heads, hats are important in summer. They protect your nose from sun burning and your hair from sun bleaching. There's nothing like a pert one to give allure, and if you girls who have trouble keeping your tresses in place throughout the day here's a real life saver.

Nowadays when you put on a hat you'll know there's something on your head. The new creations are bigger, wider and more dashing. The latter models have brims with a definite upsweep and the crowns run high. In some cases the brims curve up, saucer style, and extend higher than the crowns.

A perfect example of the upsweep is the hat worn by Lucille Ball. It is the color of ripe wheat, made of rough straw. A gold grosgrain ribbon is tied under the upsweep brim. With this is worn a box coat of honey beige and a necklace of gold beads strung on a glass chain. Gold earrings complete the ensemble and decidedly put it on the gold standard.

[illegible] has selected a [illegible] worn by the traditional Kentucky colonels. It is made of royal blue felt with an upsweep bumper brim. The deeply indented crown is banded with cherry red grosgrain ribbon. The brim is wide in the most up-to-date manner, and pleasant feathers add the proper suggestion of height. With this she wears a summer suit of Alice Blue. It's perfect for town wear now and will come in very handy for those first autumn days as well.

Last but not least is another creation. It is a turban that comes straight out of the Arabian Nights and is perfect for travel. For morning, turn of plume wool [illegible] comfortable. Not only does it keep your hair in place and protect it from the dust of the country, but being brimless you can lie back and relax without fear of knocking it off or having it fall down over your nose. It is made of draped chiffon in multi-colored stripes and was created by Rose Mangat, the noted Budapest designer.

Grim Message In Sermons

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

This year's baccalaureate sermons had a grim note. No longer are boys and girls told that an admiring world is waiting for their message, and that the world is their oyster. Chaos rending Europe, like the wailing of a banshee, foretells the death of an era. What is to be the fate of these splendid young Americans?

Thank heaven those who have spoken to them at commencements do not glorify bloodshed on foreign soil, as they did in commencement addresses immediately preceding the first World war.

Mrs. Roosevelt passionately urges youth to aid democracy, saying, "Youth must show that democracy is as successful as a totalitarian state can be. Safety of democracy lies not in armaments but what you make of your citizenship."

At the Madeira School, preparatory for Wellesley, Vassar, Bryn Mawr and other women's colleges, the graduates were told:

"The issue being fought on the fields of Flanders and of France is the right of the individual to be free, and war will be unlikely just to the degree in which we are prepared. Let no one doubt the need of preparedness is urgent, so urgent that all other matters fade into insignificance beside it."

Secretary Ickes, in dedicating the Cook Dormitory at Howard University, urged students to save the world from dislocation and destruction.

"We stand today at one of the great crossroads of history," he said. "Until now the task of education has been to prepare men to take a useful and desired place in an orderly world. Now the task of education is to build within our hearts a purpose, hard as steel, to destroy utterly the causes which result in such a catastrophe as the present, no matter what the cost. Since no dictator can feel secure, if his people possess knowledge, the treasure houses of learning are among the first objectives of the armies of conquest."

Secretary Edison, conferring degrees on 455 Naval Academy graduates, said: "Like the Fleet, each of you must be ready."

Apparently, the majority of Americans are glad to send overseas everything but soldiers. If we are attacked, we shall have to fight and the fleet will be ready. But true to our peaceful tradition and the lessons gained by World war No. 1, Commencement Day speakers did not glorify the dying of young Americans on foreign soil.

Marriage Meddlers

By ADELE GARRISON

Continuation of "Married Comrades"

ONE THING I saw clearly as a corollary of my conviction that Jack Leslie, if he came face to face with the supposed Noel and Mary, would penetrate their disguise at once. At any cost he must not be permitted to leave the thicket in which he was a hidden spectator of what was going on in the road, and in which, a little way behind him, Lillian and I were also hidden.

Neither Harry, Dicky, nor any of the men with them, spoke a word when their cars had been brought to strategic positions in which they could turn in either direction.

The leader of the men in the other car blared a suspicion, natural enough in the face of our men's speedy return.

"What did you do, fly to that place on the road to Southampton where you promised to park our boys? Or did you just knock them on the head and throw them into the nearest ditch?"

I saw Harry Underwood nod ever so slightly in the direction of the car in which were the four of my father's men who had come first to the rendezvous. And at the signal, the leader of the men laughed heartily.

"Aren't you the suspicious babies, though?" he gibed. "Your little pals are all safe and sound. As soon as everything is adjusted here, we'll lead you to your comrades. Is that okay?"

"Looks as though it would have to be," the leader growled.

"Thank you!" my father's man said.

"Well!" what are you waiting for?" he asked. "Get your babies out of that car and over in this one, and then take the box and scram out of here!"

That meant—and there was ice in my veins at the thought—that they expected our men to go ahead with the box and leave Blake and Watson (disguised as Noel and Mary) behind. There were six of Leslie's men in the big car visible, and Jack Leslie and his chauffeur hidden in the thicket. I was sure that the minute our men were gone, Leslie would appear to gloat over his victims, and then the fate of Watson and Blake would be sealed. In his rage at being duped, the two men either would be killed outright, or saved for torture at his headquarters. And the worst of it was that Dicky, Harry and our men did not know that Leslie was in the vicinity.

"Why!" we're waiting for you, sweethearts," he said. "You're so dear to us that we wouldn't think of losing sight of you for an instant until we come to the junction where we 'take the high road,' and you 'take the low road,' or vice versa, just as you prefer. But on this little expedition, we either 'hang together' or 'hang separately'—I hope you don't mind my penchant for quotations."

Chignon Popular Style

By MME QUI VIVE

Do we hear the beauty class asking, "What in the world is a chignon?" The word brings up the vision of a lovely lady in hoop skirts sitting in a phaeton, her pretty hands sheathed in silk mitts and holding a tiny sunshade over her head. Her hair is parted in the center, brought down over her ears; and her chignon, placed low on the neck, is composed of braids, puffs or ringlets, according to her fancy. It is a quaint, naive style and has its good points. It has the high hairdress skun a mile.

We have always claimed that coiffure fashions don't really change. They go through a process of evolution, one arrangement suggesting another. Since girls have been wearing rolls on the crown and at the sides there has been less hair trimming going on. She who did her own shampoo and put her tresses up on metal curlers simply didn't get around to the wool shearing. Finding herself with shoulder-length locks she pinned them back a bit. Soon she had a chignon.

* * *

There's been nothing startling in the way of coiffures in the last few years and it is high time something was done about it. We're not going back to coils at the napeline. No pigtail material done in figure eights. Nothing of that kind. The chignon of this season is soft and free. Its variations are manifold.

A cute trick is to bind back your rear curls with a strand of hair taken from either side. Make curls at the ends, clasp the ends together with a fancy clip. Or, use two clips at the back, holding two clusters of curls. If the hair has sufficient length there can be two short braids with sculptured curls at the ends, the braids placed crosswise, but low on the neck.

Hair is fun to play with and the girls are creating original designs. Especially the pretty lassies of high school age who like nothing so much as flaunting a new exotic hair do.

* * *

One smart arrangement worn by a lady of fashion shows five formal puffs placed up and down with soft curls filling in the vacant spots back of the ears. Another has a row of puffs placed on a slant, curly ends falling below them. This last design is more like the old-fashioned chignon than any of the others.

"The Authority on Authorities"

GOING BACK AND FORTH

Seldom can a declarer get effective results if he has to keep playing from his own hand and never is able to get into the dummy to lead toward his own cards or use some set-up ones in the dummy. That is why a weak long suit in a weak hand opposite a strong one makes a better declaration as a rule than a generally strong hand with nothing opposite it. The long suit, if trump, furnishes plenty of entries to that holding, and the high cards do likewise for the hand laid on the table.

	♠ 9 8 6 5 4 3 ♥ 8 6 ♦ J 3 ♣ 10 4 3
♠ J 2 ♥ J 7 5 4 2 ♦ A K 5 4 ♣ 8 6	W. E. S.	♠ Q 7 ♥ Q 10 3 ♦ 8 7 6 ♣ Q 9 7 5 2
	♠ A K 10 ♥ A K 9 ♦ Q 10 9 2 ♣ A K J

(Dealer: East. Both sides vulnerable.)

East	South	West	North
Pass	2 NT	Pass	3 ♠
Pass	3 NT	Pass	4 ♠

It requires little imagination to figure out the result of this contract. East led the diamond 8, West getting two tricks in that suit, and then the show was over, North making an overtrick.

There was plenty of straining, however, at the other table of a team game where this hand was dealt. As in this case, South opened with 2-No Trumps. North bid 3-Spades and South 3-No Trumps, but then, alas, North passed.

West led his heart 4 to the Q and A. Hoping for some kind of luck, perhaps in the form of a fortuitous lead by the foe, South raked in three spade tricks, then led the diamond 2. West took it with the K and returned his heart 2. East's 10 was allowed to win and South took the next heart. The diamond Q now went to West's K, whereupon the last two hearts were cashed, setting the contract.

Poor South had no way to take more than eight tricks. If he had been able to run those spades in the dummy, he also could have tried the club finesse and would have taken 11 tricks.

Salad Good First Course

By BETSY NEWMAN

DON'T DECIDE hastily that this molded salad is too elaborate and fussy for a first course at your dinner some hot night. It really is very simple and inexpensive, and you'll like it.

Today's Menu.

Molded Norman Salad
Potato Chips Creamed Cabbage
Caramel Custard
Iced or Hot Tea

* * *

Molded Norman Salad.

1 package salad gelatin
1 cup boiling water
1 cup cold water
1 tablespoon lemon juice
½ teaspoon salt
3 whole stuffed olives cut in half
1-3 cup mayonnaise
3 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
2 tablespoons chopped stuffed olives
1 tablespoon minced onion
1 can (3¾ oz.) Norwegian sardines.

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water, add cold water, lemon juice and salt. Pour 1 cup into ring mold and chill until it begins to thicken; then arrange whole sardines in gelatin with olives, cut side down, between. Chill until firm. In the meantime chill remaining gelatin until it begins to thicken, then add remaining ingredients and pour on top of first layer. Chill until firm. Unmold and garnish with parsley or other green.

* * *

Carmel Custard.

4 cups scalded milk
5 eggs
½ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla.

Put sugar into pan over low fire and stir constantly until melted to light brown color. Add gradually to milk, being careful that milk doesn't bubble over, as it is likely to because of the high temperature of the sugar. When sugar is melted in milk, add mixture gradually to beaten eggs, then add salt and flavoring, and strain into buttered baking dish. Put dish into pan of hot water and bake as custard at 350 degrees F. for about 1 hour.

LESSON IN LETTUCE CULTURE

Lettuce, like some people, resent being hemmed in by crowds. Most failures to get head lettuce to "head up" in the home garden is due to neglect of proper, timely thinning.

When lettuce is thinned, the pulled up plants can be transplanted. When transplanting lettuce, however, do not reset the plants too deeply. The accompanying drawing shows the incorrect planting line for resetting a lettuce plant, as well as the correct planting depth. Deep planting of lettuce is apt to result in misshapen heads. It also causes a tendency towards decay of the lower leaves.

Lettuce is a cool weather plant. During hot summer weather it is best grown in the cold frame, where a covering of laths can be used to protect against the direct rays of the sun. Other suggestions for hot weather culture of lettuce in the home garden, include: (1) set up a burlap covered frame or "sun shade" over each row of plants; (2) grow the lettuce in the shade of an out building; (3) plant the lettuce where it will be shaded by taller growing vegetables.

HOROSCOPE

For Wednesday, July 10.

The interesting chain of astral figures would seem to indicate a sudden windfall, blowing in with unprecedented precipitancy, from a surprising and possibly mysterious source and culminating in a rather spectacular crisis.

Those whose birthday it is may be wise in "expecting the unexpected," as all arguries point to sudden disruption, radical change, far-reaching effects on the future destiny, amid new surroundings, strange contacts and revamped objectives. Such adventures may have spectacular denouements, promising success, progress in entirely novel directions.

A child born on this day may have much originality, inventive and creative ability, with a high spirit of adventure and romance, although it may be strangely intuitive, subtle and perhaps suave.

62 BUCKLE DOWN TO LESSONS FOR VACATION FUN

Seven Principals Among Those From City, Nearby Towns At Two Universities.

Sixty-two men and women, including seven public school principals, from Mansfield and nearby towns, instead of spending their summer vacation fishing or at some summer resort, are attending summer classes at Ohio State and Northwestern universities.

Of this number, 55 are attending classes at Ohio State and seven at Northwestern. The summer student body at Ohio State numbers 5,000, while nearly 4,700, of which are 101 from Ohio, are enrolled at Northwestern.

Principals from Mansfield schools enrolled at Ohio State include Principal Jesse Beer and Herman D. Bishop, assistant, of Senior high school; Harry J. Dotson, John Simpson junior high; Glenn G. Rohleder, Johnny Appleseed junior high; Edward W. Kissel, Newman school; Dean G. Rex, Carpenter school, and Chester C. Secrist, Brinkerhoff school. In addition to these, a number of those registered at the university are teachers in the Mansfield and county schools.

Others from Mansfield attending Ohio State are Helen Bichtel, David Boals, Helyn Brown, John Byrnes, Catherine Coleman, Robert Ellison, Fred E. Elder, Robert Emmer, Rollin Gettles, Marjorie Gongwer, Karl Grubaugh, Helen Herring, Harold Kohler, Lars Larson, John McCullough, Helen Myers, Robert Miller, Floyd B. Million, Earl Reichert, Bradford Smith, Nellie Tingley, Muriel Voll, Jane Wagner, Richard Walter and Robert Wendland. Attending Northwestern from Mansfield are Margaret Kerr and Ralph Williams.

GUERNSEY BULLS AND COWS SOLD

Registered Cattle Change Hands, Club Reports.

Sale of two registered Guernsey bulls and two registered cows by Richland county cattle breeders was reported today by the American Guernsey Cattle club.

One of the Guernsey bulls was sold to Reese Mills, Mansfield, by Moser and Ray, also of Mansfield, while the other was sold by the Frank B. Black estate to John V. Hang of Canton.

Charles G. Brown, Mansfield, sold one of the registered cows to Byron Aten of Lexington and Roger A. Black, Mansfield, sold another to Marianna Matthews, Glendale, O.

RECEIPTS BOOST GENERAL FUND

Gas Tax Revenue Increase County's Cash Balance on July 1, to $26,243.

Richland county had nearly $14,000 more in its general fund on July 1 than on June 1, County Auditor Norman L. Wolfe's monthly financial statement showed today.

A distribution of tax funds during June boosted the general fund balance to $26,243 the first of this month as compared to $12,840 a month ago. Receipts during June amounted to $18,118 while expenses totaled $34,715.

The county, which will pay off all of its bonded indebtedness this year, had $41,294 in its bond retirement fund.

The report listed $55,291 in the auto license and gas tax fund for roads, $1,573 in the county relief fund, and $5,996 in the dog and kennel fund.

Also listed in the report was $809 in unclaimed money held by the county. Of that amount, $499 belongs to the Citizens bank of Butler and $310 to the Bellville Savings bank.

Canker Worms Do Heavy Damage To Our Shade Trees

While Richland county escaped the 17-year locust scourge that crept sections of Ohio this summer, the county's shade trees have been heavily damaged by canker-worms, County Agent George B. Ganyard said today.

The worms, which infest small sections of the state every year, have stripped the leaves from trees in parts of the county, with elm trees suffering the most.

Ganyard said the worms can be killed by the use of an arsenate of lead spray on the trees. The spray, however, must not be too strong a mixture or it will burn the leaves.

Information about spray materials and methods may be obtained from the county agent at the courthouse or from any dealer in gardening supplies.

'SAFETY TOWN' MOVES TO NEW SPOT MONDAY

Leaves Bowman Street at End Of Week, Will Operate at Newman School.

Safety town, Mansfield's nationally-known project for teaching youngsters of pre-school age the proper elements of traffic safety, will complete its stay at Bowman street school grounds this week and will reopen Monday at Newman school.

Announcement of the change was made today by Miss Helen Sturgeon, city recreation supervisor, who is in charge of the project.

Approximately 100 children between the ages of three and six have been coming to the Bowman school grounds daily between 2 and 4 p. m.

Games and supervised play are in charge of Miss Genevieve Buzenski and Kelmer Berry, WPA playground helpers, who assist Miss Sturgeon. Groups of 12 children at a time are selected from the entire number to receive instruction in traffic safety principles.

Six new chain-drive miniature automobiles equipped with balloon tires have recently been put in operation on the project which also boasts a model traffic light on the plot of ground marked out in "streets."

The new cars, which went into use for the first time last Friday, were purchased for safety town by the Auto club, through the Martin Hardware company. The less modern miniature autos which had been in use previously were sold to individuals and receipts turned over to the project.

In announcing the reopening of the project Monday at Newman school, Miss Sturgeon explained that safety town is more than a game since it embodies a complete course of instruction on car operation with reference to traffic rules.

MARKET BEGINS TO SHOW SIGNS OF RECOVERY

Steel Shares Climb on Reports That Earnings Will Be Twice Those of '39.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK—Recovery symptoms were observed in the stock market today although financial doctors failed to make any definite prognosis.

Early improvement was attributed partly to the belief of some analysts that the market might have been "sold out."

Bonds worked up selectively and commodities were mixed. Free sterling steadied, but Canadian currency dipped in terms of the dollar.

Better acting stocks included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown, Republic Steel, General Motors, Chrysler, United Aircraft, Westinghouse, Du Pont, Anaconda and U. S. Rubber.

In the case of steels, interest was shown in forecasts that 1940 earnings for the principal companies would range between $5 and $14 a share, or about double that of last year.

Market students saw a cheerful sign in the figures of federal reserve member banks in 101 cities disclosing the fifth consecutive weekly rise in loans to commerce, industry and agriculture.

Followers of metal shares heard from the American Iron & Steel Institute that June output of open-hearth and Bessemer ingots outstripped May by 14 per cent and was 57 per cent greater than in the corresponding 1939 month.
